

DEMOCRATS DISCUSS INCOME TAX MEASURE

VARIOUS PROVISIONS INCLUDING EXEMPTION CLAUSE GONE OVER CAREFULLY.

HULL MAKES ADDRESS

Congressman From Tennessee Elucidates Important Parts of Bill at Democratic Caucus Meeting.

Washington, April 18.—The first vote of the day in the democratic caucus before the income tax measure was taken up was on the motion of Representative Phelan of Massachusetts to take books and shoes from the free list and make them dutiable at 10 per cent ad valorem. This defeated, he offered an amendment for a 5 per cent duty which also was lost by an overwhelming vote.

Matter of Exemptions.

A lower income tax exemption, Congressman Hull of Tennessee explained, would necessitate a bill with so many special exemptions that it would be difficult of enforcement. It also would entail a large administrative work in fixing the exemption at $4,000 special exemptions are not necessary and it was stated the operation of the act and collection of the tax were made comparatively simple.

Considerable opposition to some of the features of the act are developing through the leaders, declared many members, under misapprehensions as to the exact working of the act.

Offers An Amendment.

The ways and means committee framed an amendment to the income tax section changing the phraseology regarding insurance policies. In the original the language was meant to exempt insurance policies in computing net income but it was regarded as confusing. The change does not alter the measure.

The constitutionality of the income tax, it became apparent today, was to be the principal subject of debate when its discussion began in earnest. Several members were planning to attack it on the ground that it was unconstitutional. The committee is ready to contend that there is no ground for apprehension on that claim.

Tariff Opposition.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 18.—Opposition to the democratic tariff bill as it affects wheat and its products, was rushed today by millers of western Minnesota and North Dakota at the annual meeting here of the Spring Wheat League. The millers ask for a 10 per cent duty on wheat and a 10 per cent ad valorem duty on wheat products. The league will make its fight through Minnesota and North Dakota representatives in congress.

Talk Income Tax.

With democratic members of the house in the role of students today, Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee converted the tariff caucus into a class in income taxation, after the caucus has disposed of amendments to a few items on the free list, passed over from yesterday. Several members sought to have a small duty levied on raw rubber, raw silk, and tungsten ore.

Representative Hull wrote the income tax section of the democratic bill about which members of congress particularly evinced a desire for information, as to its effect before trying to criticize its provision. The Tennessee member elucidated his plan in a lengthy address and on nearly every provision he was asked a dozen questions.

Execution Matters.

How the ways and means committee had arrived at four thousand dollars as the exemption limit for the income tax was the first subject of inquiry, some members asking if five thousand would not be better and others demonstrating the idea that the exemption should be lower.

ARREST MRS. DIETZ ON A MURDER CHARGE

Wife of Wealthy Chicago Tailor Held For Husband's Death—Her Lover Also Implicated.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Ill., April 18.—At the conclusion of the Thursday session of the coroner's jury investigating the death of George Dietz, the wealthy woman's tailor who was murdered in his rooms Sunday night by hammer blows, the coroner jury ordered Mrs. Dietz held for the coroner's inquest. It was agreed that the two might return to their homes, but under police surveillance, and that they would be brought to the Police court on Friday, where they would plead to the charge and be released on bail, pending the conclusion of the coroner's inquest.

Mrs. Dietz and Nurnberg left the jury room, each in charge of two detectives who remained with them during the night.

AGED FARMER IS KILLED BY FALL FROM WAGON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Grand Rapids, Wis., April 18.—Albert Burke, an aged man, whose home is in northern Wood county, was instantly killed by a fall from a wagon while enroute from the town of Arpin to his home near Auburndale.

KING AND QUEEN OF ITALY TO ATTEND ROYAL WEDDING

Berlin, April 18.—The king and queen of Italy have decided to attend the wedding of Princess Victoria Louise, daughter of the German emperor and empress, to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland. The wedding is to take place in Berlin on May 24.

J. E. WAYMAN DIES FOLLOWING ATTEMPT MADE ON OWN LIFE

Former State's Attorney at Chicago Succumbs Early Today to His Self-Inflicted Wounds.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, April 18.—Formal investigation by the coroner of the death of John E. Wayman, former state's attorney, was scheduled to be held late today. Mr. Wayman succumbed to his self-inflicted wounds early today, nine hours after he had discharged his body two bullets from an automatic pistol given into his keeping by Charles Lund, whom he was to defend upon charges of killing Edward Paul, a labor leader on April 11.

Wayman was conscious most of the time after the shooting and expressed regret for his act. "I must have had sand in my gear box when I did this," he told friends.

Two years ago in February Mr. Wayman delivered the annual address at the banquet of the Rock county bar association. He gave a very interesting talk at that time telling of investigations which were conducted under his supervision in Cook county.

INVESTIGATE RIGHT TO COLLECT FOR CURE

Solicitor of Treasury Department Investigates Whether Dr. Friedman Is Violating Federal Health Laws.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 18.—The right of Dr. Friedman to treat for pay patients with the remedy which he says is a cure for tuberculosis is being investigated by the solicitor of the treasury at the direction of Secretary McAdoo to determine whether the federal public health laws are being violated. The act of July 1, 1912, provided that no person shall transport between the states or from one foreign country any therapeutic serum or analogous products, applicable to the provision and cure of the diseases of man, unless the product had been prepared at an establishment holding an unsuspended and unrevoked license issued by the secretary of the treasury. The penalty for violation of the section is a fine not exceeding $500 or a maximum imprisonment of one year or both.

CHARLTON CASE WILL BE INTERESTING ONE

Points in International Law Are at Stake in Supreme Court Decision of Case.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 18.—The appeal of Porter Charlton from the refusal of the New Jersey courts to set aside orders for his extradition to Italy was up for argument today before the supreme court of the United States. Charlton is wanted in Italy to answer charges of having murdered his wife during their honeymoon at Lake Como, Italy on June 7, 1910. His attorneys have fought his extradition on the grounds that Italy under the treaty of 1893 has refused to send Italian subjects to the United States to answer criminal charges and also that Charlton was insane.

AGED BELOIT DOCTOR DIES THIS MORNING

Samuel Bell, Prominent Physician, Dies at Beloit—Was First President of State Board of Health.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Beloit, April 18.—Dr. Samuel Bell, aged seventy-two, for many years one of the most prominent physicians in the state, and president of the state's first board of health, former surgeon-general of the department of Wisconsin, G. A. R., and a Knight Templar, died at his home here today.

TIMELOCK FAILS TO WORK; WILL HAVE TO USE DYNAMITE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Kansas City, Mo., April 18.—With $3,607,000 in currency the first National Bank here was unable to open its vaults today. The time lock combination supposed to open automatically at nine each morning failed to work and efforts of all the vault experts in the city were in vain. Unless the vault is opened today it will be dynamited. Neighboring banks loaned money to conduct today's business.

HIGHEST LABOR PRICES REACHED AT APPLETON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Appleton, April 18.—There is a labor famine in Appleton and as a result spring wages were broken by Green and Sons who are paying twenty-five cents an hour for common labor in laying the extension to the water works system and then want more men. Mill men are advertising for men to unload pulp wood while next week considerable building will be commenced.

LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES CONVENTION AT NEENAH

Neenah, April 18.—July 22, 23, 24 and 25th, are the dates selected for the holding of the state convention of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities. At the convention all firms selling equipment and machinery to municipalities will be asked to place the things they have for sale on exhibition.

SUFFRAGETTES HOLD A MEMORIAL TOWER CAUSING NEAR RIOT

Occupy Position on London Bridge Approach Where They Defy Police for Several Hours.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, April 18.—A number of enterprising suffragettes today took possession of "The Monument" which stands near the northern approach to London bridge and commemorates the great fire which destroyed the city of London in 1666. Ascending to the top-most balcony they displayed two flags and an immense banner in the suffragette colors in each of which was written in white letters on a black background "Victory or Death."

Having securely fastened the flags to the railings surrounding the balcony the women had locked themselves inside the tower preventing the police from ascending the winding stairs. They showed the suffragette literature among the crowds which gathered below. For a long time traffic was suspended in one of the busiest districts of London.

The suffragettes maintained their position on the monument for more than an hour. While they were "holding a fort" a heavy missile thrown from the top of the monument narrowly missed injuring a number of spectators. The police eventually had to bring in the services of a locksmith who forced the door at the bottom of the shaft.

When the police appeared in the street escorting the women who had defied them so long the spectators became so threatening in their attitude that the constables were compelled to take their prisoners back to the monument until reinforcements arrived.

Two enterprising suffragettes now in prison have been identified as the women who were seen near the mansion of Lady Amy White when it was burned on March 20th.

"General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, the suffragette leader, and George Lansbury, a former socialist member of parliament, appeared at Bow street police court today to answer summons under the statute of Edward the Third charging them with inciting to crime and misdemeanor.

They were remanded until April 26 on promising not to participate in any meetings in the interval. A force of more than one hundred policemen was required to protect the women from the angry crowd. Both the suffragettes were fashionably dressed and appeared little concerned. They were released a short time after they reached the police station.

FROG MAKERS STRIKE FOR BETTER WAGES

Workmen in the Saint Paul Frog Shop Strike For Better Wages And New Foreman—Threaten Supply.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Tomah, Wis., April 18.—Frog shops of the C. M. & St. P. Ry. Company here at which the "frogs" for the entire system are made were closed today when 50 expert frog makers walked out on a demand for higher wages and for the removal of a foreman they disliked. Other employees were unable to proceed without the frog makers and the plant was shut down. There has been no disorder. The serious feature of the affair is the possibility that if the dispute is long continued the supply of frogs or track crossings will run short.

"DOCTORS' GRAFTS" DISCLOSED IN LEGISLATURE TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Ill., April 18.—"Doctors' grafts," a system of fee splitting said to be based on barter in babies was disclosed to the state legislative committee investigating charitable institutions today. It heard testimony that in many cases the physician recommending a maternity home to prospective patients, received as much as one third of the money paid to the institution. The committee also was given evidence tending to show Chicago as clearing house for foundlings throughout the middle west.

CLUES DISCOVERED ABOUT MISSING MAN FROM MEMPHIS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, April 18.—Joseph Martin of Memphis, missing since April 3, is safe and well according to the American detective who has been at work on the case for the past week. The detective says he has received information from his New York office which satisfies him on this point. He declares that the missing man is not in London.

SCHOOL SUPT. FREED FROM CHARGES OF GIRL SERVANT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 18.—Supt. S. P. of the Pittsburgh public schools, was today declared not guilty of two serious charges preferred against him by Ethel I. Fisher, a domestic employed in his home when a jury returned a verdict in common pleas court. On one of the charges the jury decreed that the county pay the costs.

WAREHOUSE HANDS GIVE SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Employees of the George H. Rumrill tobacco warehouse gave a shower at one o'clock today for Miss Mary Clauska, who is soon to be the bride of William Mulligan. Miss Clauska received a number of useful and ornamental household articles and the force enjoyed a very pleasant time.

VOTE TO RECONSIDER ROSA'S RESOLUTION

ASSEMBLY WILL AGAIN CONSIDER MATTER OF STATE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

CURB NORMAL SCHOOLS

Committee Kills Bill Making Them on Par With Congress And Frame Bill of Their Own.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, April 18.—The holding of a constitutional convention in Wisconsin came a step nearer to realization today when the assembly by a vote of 41 to 37 decided to reconsider its action in indefinitely postponing the Rosa resolution calling for a referendum on the question.

The assembly killed T. A. Stewart's bill prohibiting the intermarriages of white persons and negroes.

Dry Zone Bill Dies.

The Meland bill for a one mile dry zone around the state university was recommended for desk by the excise committee by a vote of 4 to 3.

The education committee recommended indefinite postponement for the bill placing normal schools on par with colleges in the power to grant degrees and introduced a bill of its own repealing the law under which the normals now offer a two years' course, equivalent to the first two years' work at the university.

Hunting License Bill.

An assembly bill providing that persons who are not citizens of the United States shall be considered as non-residents in the granting of hunting licenses and must pay the non-resident license fee, enacted by the state was passed 41 to 35.

The senate killed the following bills: Hunting, providing for a statement by candidates for the legislature whether or not they will support the people's choice for United States senator, Browne, appropriating $75,000 for a state board of commissioners for the Panama-Pacific exposition.

The Vint resolution looking to an investigation of old age pensions was laid over. Both houses adjourned until Monday evening.

POPE PIUS BETTER SAY DOCTORS TODAY

Report That He Suffered a Relapse Remains Unconfirmed Late This Afternoon.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rome, April 18.—Pope Pius was better today, according to the official bulletins of his physicians.

Morning Bulletin.

Today's morning bulletin issued by Prof. Marchisavi and Dr. Amici, after their usual consultation at the Pope's bedside, was as follows:

"There is further amelioration of the pontiff's catarrhal trouble and bronchial affection. His general condition is also more satisfactory today. His temperature this morning was 97. Signed, Marchisavi and Amici."

Report A Relapse.

11:50 A. M. A report gained circulation shortly before noon that the Pope's condition had taken a very sudden turn for the worst. At the hour of this dispatch it is impossible to verify the report.

The prostration, and exhaustion of the Pope are undoubtedly augmenting and according to those about him the truth is that he may die at any time or may even linger on for months.

WILL GIVE RESULTS OF GERMAN INQUIRY

German Ambassadors Will Know Result of French Investigation Regarding Insult to French Students.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, April 18.—The Nancy incident of Sunday last when a party of Germans is said to have insulted a number of French students will not be the subject of negotiations the Paris Temps says, between France and Germany.

The ambassador of Germany in Paris will be informed on Tuesday next of the results of the inquiry instituted by the French foreign office and of the decisions reached by the minor officials of Nancy, who may be found negligent of having taken precaution against disorders. The foreign office delegates who investigated the affair submitted his report today. The general conclusion being that it was an altercation without importance or significance.

CURE FOR DIPHTHERIA FOUND BY GERMAN

Method of Prolonging Immunization Against Diphtheria Discovered By German Professor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Wiesbaden, Germany, April 18.—The discovery of a method of prolonged immunization against diphtheria consisting of an injection of a mixture of pepsin and anti-toxine was announced today by Prof. Emil von Behring of the university of Marburg at the congress of international medicine now in session here.

Adequate tests of the new method in the clinics of Magdeburg and Marburg have shown that the treatment was harmless and effective. The earlier attempts to immunize by means of Behring's original diphtheria serum were unsuccessful as the immunity was brief.

JAPAN AND ITALY TO ASK MANY QUESTIONS AS TO THE NEW LAW

Complication Brought About by Californian's Action Relative to Alien Land Law.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Tokio, Japan, April 18.—The situation brought about by the California alien land holding bill is becoming increasingly serious. A mass meeting today composed for the most part of irresponsible people demanded the most extreme measures of retaliation of many of the lower classes who were present.

Talk Jingo.

Anonymous writers in the newspapers give outlines of plans for the seizure of the Philippines and Hawaii and at the same time denounce the Japanese government's submissive attitude. It is said that the changed conditions in Japan make it impossible for the government to restrain the newspapers and the lower classes. On the other hand government circles are having a friendly spirit.

Mass Meeting.

At a mass meeting a protest held here last night there was a hysterical anti-American outburst. Deputy Macfurne urged the dispatch of a Japanese fleet to California as a first step toward establishing Japan on an absolutely equal footing in the United States. Miyake an editor of the Japan Times deprecated the constant visits here of American peace apocryphs when their own country is in urgent need of the principles of justice and humanity.

Want War.

Other fiery orators insisted that the question between Japan and America had better be settled now once and for all otherwise their constant recurrence would lead at last to the arbitration of war. 20,000 people listened to the remarks of the firebrands who apparently are engineering a campaign to mould public opinion in Japan.

Very Dangerous.

The Japanese government considers the present anti-Japanese movement in California as most dangerous and is faced with the prospect of placing itself in a most unwelcome position owing to the unwillingness of the federal government at Washington to intervene and the impossibility of introducing counter measures here.

Demand Citizenship.

In the event of the passage of the California alien land holding bill through the houses of the legislature Japan will issue an imperial ordinance enforcing the Japanese foreign land ownership bill of 1900, and will apply to the federal government at Washington for permission for the Japanese to become naturalized citizens of the United States.

Italy's Request.

Washington, April 18.—Italy's inquiry of the probable effect of the pending alien laws in California upon Italians and their interests in that state is expected to be followed by like inquiries from other governments who have subjects engaged in farming, fishing and other enterprises.

Diplomats here point out that the Mafia incident in Louisiana during Harrison's administration established the inability of the federal government to exercise any control over a state in such questions and about all Secretary Bryan can do is to assure his questioners that the California land legislation as officials here hope to see it framed finally will not affect their subjects injuriously.

Plan Explanation.

President Wilson's announced selection of George W. Guthrie to be ambassador to Japan is taken with a measure of relief by those interested most vitally in the situation. He probably will soon be nominated and on his way to Tokyo. American interests in Japan have been urging that an ambassador be appointed to succeed Lanz Anderson who has just returned home. Meanwhile the Tokyo embassy is in charge of Bailey Blanchard who has had occasion to address the Japanese government through the embassy, his efforts have been confined to conferences here with Viscount Chinda the Japanese ambassador. Secretary Lane a native Californian is doing much to aid Secretary Bryan.

Next State Normal School Will Go to Eau Claire

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 18.—That the city of Eau Claire is practically assured of securing the next new state normal school was indicated by the action of the joint finance committee in reporting for passage the Ackley bill for an appropriation. The committee allowed $75,000 per year for three years, making a total appropriation of $225,000. The original bill called for $240,000. The state has practically committed itself in favor of Eau Claire by accepting a site from that city, which has been graded and made ready for building.

The committee reported for passage the Nordman bill, providing that the next normal school to be built after the Eau Claire institution is established, shall be in the northeastern part of the state. The committee reported for indefinite postponement the bills from Oconto, Shawano and Green Bay for the location of the school.

Police Make Vagrants Build Streets in Denver

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Denver, April 18.—Chief of Police Felix O'Neill today made preparations to put some of the 100 Industrial Workers of the World in jail here, serving sentences for vagrancy, to work repairing side walks. Although it had been reported to the police that several hundred more members are on the way, here none had arrived at noon.

BELGIAN PRINTERS ARE NOW ENLISTED IN GENERAL STRIKE

Fifteen Daily Papers in Brussels May Be Forced to Suspend Publication Entirely.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Brussels, April 18.—The strike of all the union printers here tomorrow will bring home to residents of the Belgian capital the effect of a general national strike, far more forcibly than the crippling of the industry in other parts of the country has done. Most of the fifteen daily papers issued here will be unable to publish. A few papers will appear in reduced form. Today's estimates of the number of strikers makes the total between 350,000 and 375,000. The movement maintains its determined character throughout the provinces.

The socialist leaders have generally succeeded in keeping their followers well in hand and have prevailed upon them to continue passive.

The street cleaners of the capital threatened today to add to the inconvenience of the residents by quitting their work immediately.

School Boys Strike.

Charleroi, April 18.—The masters of a suburban boy school today demanded that the authorities remove a detachment of soldiers who had been stationed in the school building. The local military commandant refused to comply; whereupon the school boys struck. None of the attended school this afternoon.

To Care for Children.

La Louviere, Belgium, April 18.—The proprietor of the leading machine works here has taken over entire charge of the feeding of the children of 2,000 strikers from his own factory.

Some Return to Work.

Liege, April 18.—Several hundred men who struck here on Monday returned to work today, but to counter balance it a large number laid down their tools in the neighboring district of Hayre.

REPUBLICANS PLAN FOR REJUVENATION

Convention is Planned for Next Fall At Which Party Rules Will Be Revised.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 18.—Formal demand upon the officers of the republican national committee to take action toward securing a republican convention next fall for a revision of the party rules is expected to result from informal conferences that have been going on here for some time among republican leaders, including Senator Cummins, who favored the convention idea. Representations thus far made to Chairman Hill and other officers of the committee have failed to bring any action. The party reformers insist that the basis of southern representation in the national convention must be changed and that provisions must be made so that state primary laws shall control the election of national convention delegates.

BALKAN ALLIES TO ACCEPT PEACE TERMS

Will Announce This Fact to Powers Within Day or Two.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Vienna, April 18.—The Balkan allies will today or tomorrow notify the European powers of their acceptance of the peace proposal says the Neue Presse. Bulgaria and Serbia and Greece at the same time will telegraph King Nicholas of Montenegro, urging him to follow their example.

Internal Strife.

London, April 18.—A Central News dispatch from Salonika says the 7th division of the Bulgarian army has received orders to march against Monastir now held by the Serbian troops. The Serbian commander is said to be concentrating three divisions of Serbian troops at Veles, south-east of Uskup against the threatened Bulgarian attempt to dispossess them of territory captured during the war. The Greeks in the same way are taking measure for the retention of Salonika.

DULIN AND SPOHN SIGN AS SURETIES

Counsel For Charles H. Sykes Has Filed Undertaking for Costs in Mandamus Proceedings.

John J. Dulin, 203 Center avenue and James F. Spohn, 620 Chestnut street, both former aldermen under the council system have signed as sureties the undertaking for costs of the mandamus action brought on the part of Charles H. Sykes against John P. Hammurath, city clerk. The undertaking sets forth that Charles Sykes, relator in the action, is responsible to the sum of $250 in each of the three actions brought to secure the recall of the three city commissioners. According to the stipulation of the court each of the sureties stand good to the amount of $500 in each of the three actions.

Counsel for the defense has until April 22 to make their returns to the proceedings and will decide in the meantime what course they will take.

ONE CANDIDATE WITHDRAWS FROM OFFICERS' LIST

Washington, April 18.—At the opening of today's session of the D. A. R. Mrs. Charles B. Bryan of Tennessee announced her withdrawal from the race for the presidential generalship. This left Mrs. William C. Storey of New York and Mrs. John Miller Horton of Buffalo as the only candidates for the place.

FIND MISS PUCKETT TIRED OF OVERWORK TOOK HER OWN LIFE

Teacher in District No. 5, Johnstown, Met Death of Her Own Volition Is Jury's Verdict.

That Vivian Puckett, whose body was found in a pool of water in the Hayes slough in South Beloit, Wednesday, had suicidal intentions last Tuesday night, was brought out at the inquest held by Coroner McAllister at South Beloit late Wednesday afternoon. Tom Jonas testified that Mr. McAllister at whose home the girl boarded at Avalon, took her to Janesville Tuesday night and left him at the station, advising him to take the young woman to his home and keep careful watch over her.

Jonas testified that Mr. McAllister told him that his family had noticed the peculiar actions of the school teacher for some time but thought nothing of it until recently, knowing that her hard work at school had worn her down considerably.

Of late, however, the family had frequently advised and even pleaded with her to forsake her teaching and take a needed rest, which she was loath to do. Last Sunday she spent the day with her sister, Mrs. Jonas, and when she prepared to leave Sunday evening to return to Avalon she broke down and became hysterical and was forced to remain there.

Monday her sister and husband pleaded with her to give up her school and remain with them and she became almost reconciled to doing this, but Tuesday morning she said she felt better and insisted on returning to her school, which she did. She resumed charge of the school Tuesday afternoon and when she came back to the McAllister home after she had dismissed her scholars she went to her room where she remained until time for the evening meal.

On finishing supper she went to the kitchen and smuggling away a butcher knife returned to her room, but one of the members of the family had noticed this proceeding and straightway notified Mr. McAllister, who went to the room and demanded entrance. Miss Puckett came to the door, but kept her right hand behind her, but when McAllister asked her what she held in her hand she showed him the knife.

Realizing the seriousness of her condition Mr. McAllister personally took her to Janesville and turned her over to her brother-in-law.

It was also brought out at the inquest that a love affair, which was unknown to any of her family until two weeks ago, and which it appears had terminated in a disappointment, had done much toward bringing on the spells of despondency that she had suffered.

At the inquest Fred Graham, who found the body, testified that he was motorman on the car in charge of Jonas, and that when the latter told him the story of the young woman's disappearance Wednesday morning he had a premonition that her body would be found in the river.

As soon as they could be relieved from duty at night, Graham stated that in company with Jonas he started out to search for the young woman and after an hour's search he left Jonas and went to the river, and while going through the slough saw a knee protruding above the water in a small pool about three feet deep.

Graham immediately made known his discovery, and he was soon joined by several men, among them Jonas and Constable Root. Coroner McAllister was immediately summoned.

How the young woman could wander around without being seen is a mystery to the South Beloit people who had been searching for her since nine o'clock in the morning. Mrs. J. H. Root testified that she had seen her pass her home after eleven o'clock but that she was unaware that any search was being made for her at that time.

After hearing the testimony of Dr. Cochran of Rockton, who held a post mortem examination on the body and who testified that so far as he could ascertain, there was no other motive for the suicide than brooding over her ill-health, the jury brought in the following verdict:

"We, the undersigned jurors, find that Vivian Puckett came to her death by drowning in Rock river while temporarily insane, due to a nervous breakdown.

GAS, SOURNESS AND INDIGESTION VANISH

Just as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the Stomach, all distress is gone.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that's just what makes Pape's Diapiesin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn, lumpy, sour, belch, gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back. It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in a home—should always be kept handy in case of sick, sour, upset stomachs during the day or night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

INFANT BLINDNESS SHOULD BE AVOIDED

J. T. Hooper, of State School For Blind Makes Startling Statement Before Committee.

At the hearing, before the joint finance committee of the legislature on Senator Hoyt's bill providing for the distribution of solution of nitrate of silver among physicians and midwives for the purpose of preventing infant blindness, technically known as ophthalmia neonatorum, Dr. C. A. Harper, of Madison, gave some startling figures relating to the prevalence of venereal diseases.

He said that twenty per cent of the blind persons in this country are thus afflicted because of venereal disease of the parents; that 75 per cent of the major operations on women are made necessary because of such diseases. He told the committee that 50 per cent of men of adult age are afflicted with one form or another of venereal disease and that the condition in this respect is an appalling one that must be confronted if the race is to be saved.

J. T. Hooper, superintendent of the school for blind of this city, said that of 110 blind persons in that institution thirty are there because of infantile blindness which might have been prevented by the application of the nitrate of silver treatment.

Dr. Harper agreed with the committee that to begin with the distribution of the preventive should be made only to midwives and that size of the containers for the solution should be reduced so that an appropriation of $3,000 would cover the expenses.

COUNCIL PREPARING ITS ANNUAL REPORT

Will Show What was Accomplished in First Year Under Commission Form of City Government.

Members of the City Council, the City Clerk and the City Treasurer have been at work for some time on the annual report which will show the receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year 1912-1913 ending on April 15, the accomplishments of the first year under the commission form of city government. It is expected that the report will be completed and ready for publication in the Official City Journal in about ten days. Detailed statements will be presented of the financial condition of the city, the amounts appropriated and transferred to the different funds, the expenditures made from them, and their purpose. It will in substance be a transcript of the city's ledger for the period covered. Explanatory comment on the work done by the present administration, its purposes, and its plans, will be embodied in the report, and make it easy of understanding to the average citizen. Because of the large number of requests made for copies of the annual report, by the officers of other cities, as well as Janesville people, a number will be published in addition to the regular addition of the Official Journal.

BISHOP W. W. WEBB TO CONFIRM CLASS

Head of Milwaukee Protestant Episcopal Diocese to Visit Christ Church Tomorrow.

Bishop W. W. Webb, D. D., Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Milwaukee, will arrive in the city tomorrow evening and will administer the rite of confirmation to a class at Christ church at the service to be held there at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Bishop Webb visits Janesville at least twice a year to at confirm classes, his other visit being made to Trinity church. He will be the guest of the Rev. John McKimney while in the city.

JURY COMMISSIONERS MET IN CITY TODAY

Made Out List of Those Who Will Be Subject to Call As Jurors in the Municipal Court.

Jury Commissioners George McKee of Janesville, Edward Hanson of Beloit, and Robert Moore of Bradford met at the municipal court room this morning to make out the list of two hundred names of those who will be subject to call as jurors in municipal court cases during the ensuing year. It is the practice to retain a certain proportion of the names on the former list, but many new ones are added. After the commissioners complete the lists it is the duty of the clerk of the municipal court to copy them on the slips which are inserted in the cylinder from which he draws them when a jury is to be selected.

Below is given a list of titles of attractive printed matter which has been sent to the Gazette Travel Bureau for distribution by the various transportation companies of the country.

Hughie Jennings, manager of the Detroit Tigers, opines that Umpire Silk O'Loughlin shows exceedingly beneficial results of training in the south this spring. He thinks that within the next few years all the umpires will be sent south to train, one to each club.

The famous Delahanty name seems to have dropped out of big league baseball this season for the first time in a quarter of a century. Usually one or more of the famous brothers has been in the big show, but this season all who are playing are in the minors. Nor are there any members of the second generation who seem likely to bring them back into prominence.

Johnny Evers, manager of the Chicago Cubs is being sued for $300 for fixtures installed in a shoe store which failed. Johnny says he can't be held because the venture was managed by a corporation, and he points to the undeniable fact that he is far from being a corporation.

Buddy Ryan, outfielder for the Cleveland Naps, has joined the team, entirely recovered from a serious illness which confined him to a Denver hospital for a long time during the training season. He expects to be able to jump into the game in a short time.

The Cincinnati Reds expect to be strengthened shortly by the addition of Johnny Kling to their catching staff. The former star of the Chicago Cubs is winding up his billiard parlor interests in Kansas City and already has started training. He will be a great help in steadying the young Red pitchers.

The Blue Grass League, which withdrew from organized baseball because it wanted to add Covington, Ky., to its circuit, has disbanded. Several of the club owners felt unsafe without the protection of the national association of baseball clubs and declined to take the risk. Lexington and Marysville seek to enter the Ohio State League.

George Burns, playing left field for the New York Giants, is merely an experiment. If he fails to come up to snuff he will find Josh Devore ready to hop into the vacancy.

Connie Mack, Manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, evidently is not sure that his veterans, Bender, Coombs and Plank, will come through with the goods this year. He has seven youngsters on his hurling staff, and so is prepared to replace a veteran whenever he gives signs of faltering.

George Stallings, manager of the Boston Nationals, declares that Hal Chase of the New York Americans is the greatest player in baseball. He says Hal can play all three bases, shortstop, the outfield, pitcher or catcher with success, and is sure that Manager Frank Chance will handle Chase with good results.

AMERICAN MARATHON RACE IS TOMORROW

Will Be Run Over Course of Twenty-five Miles Between Ashland and Boston—Many are Entered.

Boston, Mass., April 18.—Tomorrow the seventeenth annual American Marathon race over the twenty-five mile course from Ashland to Boston, will be run under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association. The race will be over the same course as in previous years, and one of the largest fields that ever participated in a distance run is expected to start.

Ever since the first of the B. A. A. Marathons, the event has grown steadily in importance until now it is recognized at the premier contest of its kind in America. When the Olympic team representing the United States went over to Athens in 1896, Americans knew little or nothing about distance running and were beaten decisively. The Boston Athletic Association noticed that there was a chance to have Marathon running come into prominence, and its first event came April 19, 1897, which went to J. J. McDermott, a New Yorker.

Of late years the race has attracted runners from many sections of the country. In 1900 the event attracted attention of Canadians and there has been an increased number of entries from across the border. J. J. Caffrey, of Hamilton, Ont., was the winner in 1900. He turned the trick again the next year and is the only runner who ever repeated his victory in the classic event. Tom Longboat, wearing the colors of the West End Y. M. C. A. of Toronto, was the winner in 1907. Three years later Cameron scored another victory, when Fred L. Cameron, of Amherst, N. S., was first to cross the tape. The fastest time ever made in the race was last year, when Mike Ryan, the famous long-distance runner of the Irish-American A. C. of New York, covered the distance in 2 hours and 21 minutes and 18 1/2 seconds.

WESTERN RAILWAY SOLD UNDER FORECLOSURE SUIT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Denver, Colo., April 18.—The sale of the Denver, Northwestern and Pacific Railway under foreclosure proceedings took place here today. It is expected that the Denver and Salt Lake Railway, the succeeding corporation, will assume control of the property about the first of next month. Newman Erb, formerly president of the Wisconsin Central, is slated for the presidency of the new company, and W. E. Morse, formerly assistant general manager of the Chicago and Northwestern, is to be vice president and general manager.

WESTERN LEAGUE BASEBALL GAMES WERE STARTED TODAY.

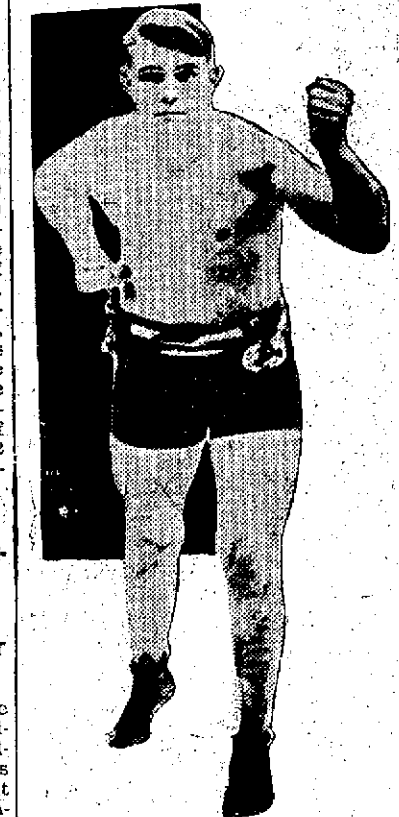

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Omaha, Neb., April 18.—With utter disregard for all Friday superstitions, the Western League started its championship season today, and if the predictions of the league officials and the club owners are fulfilled, the year will be one of the most successful in the fourteen years' history of the organization. From the Denver champions, down to Topeka, the tail-enders, all the clubs are reported in good shape for the race.

The league circuit is the same as last season and there have been very few changes either in managers or among the prominent players. The only managerial change is at Lincoln, where Charley Mullen, formerly of the Chicago White Sox, has been engaged to pilot the home team.

In the opening games Lincoln lined up at Wichita, Denver at Topeka, Des Moines at St. Joseph and Sioux City at Omaha. The season's schedule provides for 168 games to be played in

HIGH SCHOOL NINE MAY BE ORGANIZED

Signatures of Students Favoring Baseball Team Are Now Being Secured.

Petitions are being passed among students of the high school for the purpose of obtaining names in favor of a school baseball nine this spring. There is a wealth of material in the school, and with the majority of the students' signatures on the list, the school should receive creditable support on the diamond this season. Several good pitchers have showed up lately, and the men have been out for practice for about a week getting into trim, so if the team were formed, they would be in good condition. Andrew Connell, the crack twirler of this city, would undoubtedly be on the mound for the high school boys, while Victor Hemming may be used behind the bat. Joe Ryan and Ray Adler are also pitchers, so that these men combined with the rest of the good material should pave the way for a successful baseball team.

BANQUET TO MARK CLOSE OF THE BOWLING SEASON

Members of League to Dine at Caledonia Rooms Next Monday Evening—Schedule Unfinished.

The close of the bowling season will be observed by the members of the Janesville Bowling League with a banquet next Monday evening at the Caledonia rooms. Not less than forty are expected to attend, and an entertaining program has been prepared for the occasion. The League was not able to complete its schedule because the alleys were made unfit for use by the backwater resulting from the damming of the river following the big fire on April 13. At the time the Orioles held first place, the Blue Jays, second; the Swallows, third; the Robins, fourth; the Larks, fifth; and the Canaries, sixth.

GYMNAST CHAMPIONSHIP MAY FALL AT TOURNAMENT

New York, April 18.—Gymnastic champions of America and aspirants for individual honors in the titular events to be held tomorrow night at the West Side Y. M. C. A. in this city, anxiously await the call for action which will determine the premier contestants in the eight events scheduled. These include Indian club swinging, flying rings, rope climb, side horse, parallel bars, long horse, horizontal bars and tumbling. The all-around championship will also be determined, based on the highest point winners in the horizontal bars, parallel bars, side horse, and long horse. Held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, the events are open to all registered gymnasts, and the regulation A. A. U. championship gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to first, second and third men, respectively, in each event.

MURPHY-WOLGAST BOUT DRAWS LIVELY INTEREST

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

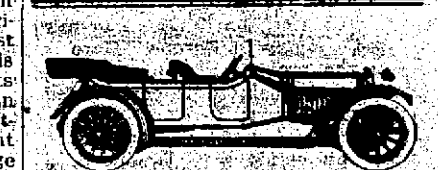

San Francisco, Cal., April 18.—Boxing fans are manifesting a lively interest in the 20-round bout between "Harlem" Tommy Murphy and former champion Ad Wolgast, which is slated for decision in the Cofroth arena here tomorrow. The 20-round draw fought by Murphy and Wolgast here several months ago was one of the fastest fights seen on the coast in a long time, and this fact accounts largely for the interest displayed in their return engagement. Murphy has been training faithfully ever since his arrival here some weeks ago. Wolgast was a little tardy in beginning his work of preparation, but the reports from his camp today state that he is in the best of condition for the encounter. The sale of tickets indicates that the fight will be witnessed by a large crowd.

INCOME TAXERS.

Wisconsin has had a taste of the income tax laws and its workings and there is yet much doubt as to what real good it accomplishes. Now comes the federal income tax proposition and an exchange, discussing the problem the democratic statesmen are attempting to legislate, says:

"If the framer of the measure did not take it so seriously, the income tax schedule of the tariff would be hailed as something new in the field of American humor. It is introduced by democrats to redeem democratic pledges, and it contains provisions which would not be tolerated in any civilized country in Europe. Here is one of the provisions, and its effect upon honest business is commended of thoughtful men:

"Under the plan of collecting at the source," an employee in receipt of a salary in excess of $3,500 a year has to make a statement to his employers, of all his taxable private means, of his wife's private means, and of the means of every member of his family constituting his household. The inquisitorial power, which is so offensive a part of any such measure, is in fact, handed on. No self-respecting employee would dream of making such a statement at present, and his wife might constitutionally object; while no decent employer would ask for such information from an employee sufficiently trusted to be in receipt of a taxable salary.

"This sounds almost unbelievable, but Congressman Hull of Tennessee, who takes the responsibility for framing the measure, and, perhaps on account of obviously never having read the income tax law of any other country, so states the point. He has introduced himself to the newspapers as an authority on the subject. The men who do the practical work of trade, business, medicine, law, and education, implying responsibility and authority, are those in receipt of incomes which may look large to the unskilled worker, but cannot seem excessive to the congressman at $7,500 a year, tax-exempt, and another $2,000 of pickings.

"It is this class whose personal rights are menaced as they have never been menaced before. Great Britain does not collect the tax from the employer, although the Income Tax Commissioners may require the names of employees liable to taxation above the minimum of $800 a year. But it is recognized there that the employee is a free citizen, with rights of privacy which his employer cannot invade. The present suggestion, if embodied into law, would place a power over their best and most honest employees in the hands of unscrupulous employers, such as no republican administration could have proposed, without a howl of protest from one end of the land to the other.

"If Congressman Hull is not more than a figurehead, the sooner the matter is removed out of his incompetent hands, the better. The proposal, as it stands, confers a privilege upon great wealth, and inflicts an indignity upon our most useful working citizens, which no free people should tolerate for one moment."

BOOST—DON'T KNOCK.

Now is the time for boosting. Bury the hammer and turn in and boost Janesville and the new Twenty-five Thousand club. It has been intimated that some elements are not in accord with the proposed club because of ulterior motives. Forget them. Be a booster and help boost. The opportunity to make Janesville a city of prominence in the manufacturing world, to increase the population, to bring new families, new industries here, is at hand. Forget past differences and give a united front to the proposition. A house divided against itself falls. Janesville should not be divided on the question of Janesville. We may all differ as to policies, but when it comes to a question of public welfare, public property, which means something to every resident, it is time to forget petty differences and bury the hatchet. Be a booster, not a knocker, and put on the little red button that spells "S-u-c-c-e-s-s."

Los Angeles has abandoned its municipal newspaper. But at least it was useful to cover pantry shelves, which is more than can be said for the congressional record.

There is only one way in which Louisiana can show that it is in earnest about the tariff on sugar. And that is to vote the republican ticket.

An advance of $5 a foot is announced in the price of show snakes. But an advance in the price of the bar room kind would be better.

The Seattle court's decision that a suicide agreement made with one's six-year-old child is not binding on the child will hardly be reversed.

It certainly would have surprised that Louisiana woman who shot her husband if she had been lynched instead of married again.

At that, it is probably easier to keep the gilt decorations on hotel tableware than to keep the tableware in the hotel.

Even though the silk hat was introduced as long ago as one hundred years, some of us can still plead "not guilty."

Possibly Mr. Bruecker is delaying his dirigible balloon trip across the Atlantic until he can sign a suitable cat.

We assume that Secretary Bryan agrees that it's only the first grandchild that makes a man feel aged.

Naturally if all the mills move away from Paterson, N. J., there'll be no work for the anarchists to avoid.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CLOSSES FIRST YEAR

Celebrates Anniversary of Founding by Giving Banquet and Reception at Caledonian Rooms.

Members of the Christian church of Janesville celebrated the first anniversary of the establishment of the congregation last evening with a reception and banquet at the Caledonian rooms, their regular meeting place. At 7:30 o'clock all sat down to the tables that neatly filled the large room and were served a hearty meal by the ladies of the congregation. The Rev. Frank Van Voorhis acted as toastmaster, introducing those who gave the program prepared. E. L. Spencer spoke on "The Past Year," Charles Cowdery on "The Coming Year," and F. W. Drake on "A Home of Our Own." Others who gave brief addresses were J. H. Fisher, F. E. Sadler, and I. R. Spencer of Footville, who has ministered to the congregation to a considerable extent during the past year. Mrs. Drake gave an enjoyable reading. All speeches were optimistic in tone, the recent fire which destroyed the meeting place of the congregation apparently spurring to greater effort. The past year was pronounced satisfactory and the outlook for the church promising. The banquet was declared highly successful.

A New Manager at the Victrola Shop

Mr. C. W. Patchen has assumed charge of the Victrola business formerly owned by F. H. Koebelin, and will devote his time to the business at the Koebelin store on East Milwaukee street.

You will find there a complete line of records to choose from and you will be satisfied with the service. A full line of machines and supplies will be kept on hand at all times. A demonstration of both machines or records will be given at any time, either day or evening. Your business is wanted. Bell Phone 301. Rock County 650. —Advertisement.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

THE DAY OF SMALL THINGS.

To stand on a mountain top it is necessary to climb. This has been said before, which only proves its truth. The higher the peak the harder the climb!

Fame is a mountain top. The climb to it is not alone, or chiefly, physical, but is none the less arduous.

Despite the bricks thrown at the United States senate—on account of the character or affiliations of some of its members—it is perhaps the greatest legislative body on earth.

Membership in it is a station that any normal man would wish to hold. The other day I made up a list of present United States senators, tabulating their educational advantages, early public positions and other like facts.

Most of them were poor boys. While more than half had a college education, many of these had to pay their own way.

Forty per cent have been members of state legislatures.

Now, membership in a state legislature is not considered a particularly lofty station. Some jokesmiths compare going to the legislature with going to jail.

Yet, with the right sort of man, service in a legislature may not only be worthy service, but may be a stepping stone to something higher.

Despise not the day of small beginnings.

One of these senators states in his official biography that he has been "lumberjack, cowboy, clerk and cashier in a store, newspaper reporter, hod-carrier and lawyer."

This recalls a similar statement by the present speaker of the national house of representatives, who says that he "worked as a hired farmhand, clerked in a country store, edited a country newspaper and practiced law."

These men are not ashamed of their humble origin. They are proud of it. They have a right to be proud.

It shows the length of the climb. The man who is ashamed of small beginnings may have a real cause for shame of his smaller ending.

Abraham Lincoln worked as a hired farmhand, clerked in a country store and also served in the state legislature. Has he not made small beginnings honorable?

The Prince of Peace was born in a stable and worked as a carpenter.

It is not the depth from which we start that tells the tale.

It is our ability to climb.

FOR THE MOMENT

(John D. Rockefeller offers this pet advice to men of all ranks and stations during the course of an interview. "Save your money. That's the keynote of success.")

"If successful you'd be, 'Save your coin,' said John D. Our idea of a joke.

Is just that, gentle folk.

It is easy to say:

"For the next rainy day, Save your pennies, my lad."

That is what my dear dad Used to say years ago:

"Save your dough, save your dough."

When the grocer gets through, And the coal dealer, too, And the butcher gets his As a matter of biz,

And we've aint the price For the gas and the ice, And the fuel and the rent, We have not got a cent.

Though philosophers rave, How are we going to save?

Hi Higgins is looking forward to a record-breaking frog leg crop this season. Hi has invented a humane way of getting frogs and he doesn't spear 'em or hit 'em with a club.

Lem Botts is gettin' sort of spicceen-ed again them mail order houses. He ordered a dozen strictly fresh eggs by parcels post the other day and when they came, one of 'em had a note written on it in lead pencil, the message being dated April 7, 1911.

It ain't much of an inducement to tell a kid that if he is good he may grow up to be the ambassador to Mexico.

Lemuel Higgins, a lifelong Democrat for almost six months writes home from Washington that he will stay there until he gets a job. He has already borrowed $18 from our congressmen. Wilson refuses to see him. The folks around here never could.

Folks are speculating on what the barber will find in Uncle Ezra Harkin's whiskers when he trims 'em this spring. Last spring he found an alarm clock, a china egg, a pin cushion and a rattlesnake, all of which had been missing around the house all winter.

Principal Lowth Receives Word That Sickness Will Prevent Appearance of Theodore Werle.

Principal F. J. Lowth of the county teachers' training school received word last evening that Theodore Werle, the lecturer of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis society, who was to give a series of five lectures in Jansville beginning this morning, was unable to fill the engagement owing to illness with diphtheria. Arrangements will be made to have the lectures at a later date if possible.

Noyes Raessler of Beloit, will speak at the training school tomorrow morning on the matter of corn raising. His remarks will be of interest to prospective teachers who will as instructors in the rural schools be required to teach agriculture.

LAYMEN WILL MEET TO TALK MISSIONS

Convention at Madison May 4 and 5
Will Draw Delegates from Southwestern Wisconsin.

Something entirely new in the way of conventions for men will be the gathering of hundreds of men from southwestern Wisconsin in Madison May 4 and 5 to attend a convention of the laymen's missionary movement.

The question of holding the convention has been under consideration for some months and a committee, of which Joseph M. Boyd is chairman, L. L. Olds, vice chairman, C. W. Steenland, secretary, and E. B. Steenland, treasurer, has been in existence for some weeks. Recently a gathering was held, at which 82 of the representative men in the city were present and 62 registered at once as delegates for the convention.

Clapp Executive Secretary.
Willbur L. Clapp, who has had three years of experience as secretary of various conventions in this and other states, is executive secretary, and an office has been opened in rooms 232-234 Washington building.

Only two conventions under the auspices of this great movement have ever been held in Wisconsin—one in Milwaukee three years ago, attended by over 800 men and one in Janesville previous to that. Although the movement originated but six years ago, many great conventions have been held in different parts of the United States attended by thousands of delegates. The movement is national in scope and educational in character. It is not to increase the number of organizations in the church but to make more effective the organizations which already exist. It is inspirational rather than administrative. Co-operating with the regular missionary agencies of the churches, its purpose is to educate and inspire the laymen to an appreciation of the urgency and obligation of the world's missionary task.

Begin With Big Meeting.
The convention in Madison will begin with a big meeting for men Sunday afternoon, May 4, and conclude with a great supper Monday evening, May 5. The executive committee extends a hearty invitation to all churches in southwestern Wisconsin to send delegates to the convention. The program will include many effective speakers in the country upon missionary topics. The convention will be self-entertaining, a charge of $1 for registration being made to meet the necessary expense. Mr. Clapp will be glad to meet all who are interested at the headquarters, and also to correspond with anyone outside the city who may wish information.

VETERAN LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEER STRICKEN

James R. Lewis, in Employment of Northwestern Railway for Fifty Years, Dropped Dead Today.

James R. Lewis, for fifty years an employee of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, and one of the best known locomotive engineers on the system, dropped dead about five minutes past nine o'clock this morning while standing in the garden to the rear of his home, 22 South Academy street. As he had been ill all winter and subject to attacks of heart trouble ever since he was stricken in Chicago last December, it was thought that there was some hope of resuscitation. Those who carried him to the house worked over him until the arrival of Dr. W. A. Munn, who stated that death had been instantaneous. Mr. Lewis had convalesced sufficiently in the last few days to get out and move around. He felt very well last evening after supper, passed a restful night, and arose this morning feeling better than usual, and under these circumstances his death comes as a great shock to his wife and friends.

Mr. Lewis was born in Janesville, June 1, 1846, being the son of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis, who were among the earliest settlers in the city. They once resided where the Methodist church now stands, but James Lewis was born on the site of the public library. He began work for the Northwestern railway at an early age and in the span of his service saw the development of railroading almost from its beginning to the present time.

For a generation he has operated locomotives on passenger trains. He had several different runs, among them one from Chicago to Fond du Lac, but during the last ten years he ran the accommodation train between Janesville and Chicago. He would have completed fifty years of service next September, and had been notified that he would soon become eligible to pension.

Mr. Lewis was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for thirty years, being one of the first to join the order. He was also a Mason. He was married to Miss Anna Thomas at Milwaukee in 1894, who with one sister, Mrs. Altha Carey of South Kaukauna, is left to mourn his loss.

Funeral services will be held at the home at two o'clock Monday afternoon, the Rev. J. W. Laughlin, officiating. The Masons will have charge of the services at the grave. Burial will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Myers Theatre

According to their yearly custom, members of the Pabst Theatre Stock Company of Milwaukee, will again take to the road this spring, to appear in the more important towns of the middlewest.

On Sunday evening the company will also visit Janesville for a one night stand, presenting "O Schwiegermama," a musical comedy in 3 acts by Bisson & Mars.

This comedy forms a star attraction for all German stages, and provides no end of laughter from beginning to end.

"THE BOHEMIAN GIRL."
In this age of frivolous musical comedy, patter songs and ragtime, the musicianly classes will welcome with zest the big spectacular revival of Balfe's masterpiece "The Bohemian Girl" in English, which the Aborn Opera Company will offer at the Myers Theatre on Friday, April 25. The Messrs. Aborn have made a special and most elaborate production of this grand old opera; that is said to rival the most important Metropolitan productions in point of massive and magnificent stage investiture. Consistently introducing therein, many novel and sensational features, yet Balfe's delightful score, with its wealth of heart-stirring beautiful melodies has not been eclipsed. The music will be sung by an important cast of well known singers.

THAW BELIEVES HE MADE HIT WITH JURY

Harry Thaw.

Harry Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, is very much pleased over the impression he made with the New York grand jury when he testified before it last week. The jury is seeking to determine whether there was a conspiracy in the cover-up of the recent efforts to procure Thaw's release from the Mattewan Hospital for the Criminal Insane, and whether his brother or attempted brother-in-law had any part in them.

Adopt English Language.
A fact illustrating the superior culture of Christian college graduates in India is seen in the report that in the presidency of Madras English is spoken by one Hindu in every 132, one Moslem of every 157, but by one Christian of every 15.

Irreverent Youth.
The curate was learning to ride a bicycle, and in a misplaced fit of zeal set off on his own. He thought he could manage by himself, so started downhill in a somewhat wobbly manner. The road was wet and muddy, and it was not long before the machine had skidded and the curate was floundering in the mud. A youthful member of the Sunday school watched the catastrophe with evident pleasure. "Here endeth the first lesson," he chorled.—London "Tribune."

It takes the fairest of the young, and touches each of them with change and loss. The skin, once so soft that even the lover was half-fearful in touching it, stiffens its texture, and the transparent veil, through which soft lights and tender colors played, hides impenetrably those hovering and vanishings of mood. The undulations of the cheek drop with care. All the gracious perfection is reduced.—Collier's Weekly.

Man's Personality His Own.
"A man's personality," writes J. W. Scott of the University of Glasgow, "is a thing which needs to be made. He does not bring it full-edged into the world with him. Strange as it may seem, personality is a thing which a man absorbs from his environment as a plant absorbs air and light. We are all plagiarists. In the last resort everything we have or know is borrowed."

ORATORICAL CONTEST
EXCEEDINGLY CLOSE

Clayton Hubbell Takes First Place
With Kenneth Earle Second and Edward Sweeney Third—
Other Edgerton News.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, April 18.—The oratorical contest was held last evening in the high school assembly room with the following speakers:

Francis Curran—
The Martyred President.
Roy Tallard—
Toussaint L'Overture.
Ed. Sweeney—
National Apostasy.
Kenneth Earle—
War and Public Opinion.
Glenn Gardner—
Moral Aspect of American War.
Jay Campbell—
American Infamy.
Clayton Hubbell—
Evolution of Conscience.

Before the contest, the Girl's Glee club, under the direction of Miss Alice Helms, rendered two songs which were greatly appreciated by those present. Mr. Holt then addressed the audience and told of the value of oratorical training—not only what the winners obtained in victory, but many times those that take the last places often get a great deal out of the work. The judges for the contest were George Blanchard of Edgerton, Prof. Whitford of Milton, and Mr. Slagg of Stoughton.

All orations were rendered in an excellent manner and showed that those taking part put forth their best efforts.

First place was awarded to Clayton Hubbell; second to Kenneth Earle; and third to Edward Sweeney.

With the honor of winning first place, a medal is given which the winner may keep after winning it two consecutive years. The decisions of the judges was so close that there was only five-tenths of a point between the winners of first and second place. Clayton Hubbell received two seconds and a first; Kenneth Earle received a first, second and a fourth, while Edward Sweeney received a first, fourth and fifth.

Final Declamatory.
The final declamatory and extemporaneous will be held this evening at 7:30 in the high school assembly room. The speakers in the declamatory contest will be: Marie Cunningham—The Sign of the Cross.
Cecilia Barrett—Patsy.
Nettie Armit—Inja.
Bernadine Girard—The Bear Story.
Lulu Sholl—The Christmas Play.

While those who will speak in the first extemporaneous contest the school has ever had, will be: Nellie Bradley, Rollin Ellinson, Lowell

Whittet, Glenn Gardner and Harold Pratt.

They will draw their topics just before the contest starts. The winner of the declamatory contest will receive a gold medal given by P. M. Ellington, and the winner of the extemporaneous contest will receive one given by Principal F. O. Holt.

Commencement Plans.

The high school seniors are considering their commencement invitations. Several representatives have appeared before the class submitting samples and prices. A choice will probably be made by Monday.

The class has chosen as its motto: "No success without endeavor," and for its flower, the white rose. Class parts will be:

Class will—Ida Anderson.
Class poem—Susie Lear.
Class prophecy—Beulah Pomeroy.
Class history—Adele Wentworth.
Charge to under-graduates—Ray McCall.
Valedictory—Sarah Davis.

WILLIS TAYLOR SEVERELY INJURED THIS MORNING

Willis Taylor, engine foreman at the transfer station of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, was severely injured this morning being struck by a door while riding on a freight car and came near meeting his death under the wheels of the freight train.

The accident happened at the transfer house which is situated about a mile and a half from the station and it was only good fortune that he escaped with a bad gash in his head and hip.

Mr. Taylor was riding on the side of a freight car at the time and one of the big doors of the house was blown open by the wind just as the train was passing. The platform of the station extends to within a few feet of the track and when the door swung open Mr. Taylor was struck by it, knocking him unconscious and cutting an ugly gash in his hip. The force of the blow knocked him to the ground between the platform and the moving wheels of the train and it was a miracle that he did not roll under the wheels. His injuries besides the two are slight and will confine him to his home for a period of about three weeks.

A telephone has been installed at the yards at the Hanson furniture factory and connected to the round house and station whereby orders may be given without the switching crew having to cross the river.

A small force of men have been busy at the Northwestern yards electrifying the locomotive headlights in compliance with the state law which goes into effect on July 1 of this year. It is estimated that the Northwestern company has about three hundred and fifty engines in this state which will have to be equipped with electric headlights. All switch engines are exempt.

The electric current is generated from a one kilowatt dynamo directly connected to a small steam turbine, which is mounted on the boiler or some convenient place. There are about fifty engines that will have to be electrified at the Janesville yards, 25 on the Wisconsin division, 10 on the Wisconsin, 8 on the Madison and two on the Galena. There is a great deal of discussion as to whether the electric lights are superior to the old oil ones as both of them depended entirely on the strength of the reflector and an enormous amount of current would be consumed to make the light as strong as the state law intends it to be. On the big limited trains the headlights are electric and have enormous penetrating power as a large voltage can be supplied from the power house in the baggage room; while in the case of the ordinary passenger and all freight trains the dynamo and turbine will have to be small so as to not interfere with the machinery of the engine. Besides supplying power to the headlights wires are being placed in the cabs so as to allow proper light for the engine crew to work by.

MISSING MAN'S CLOTHES FOUND—BODY UNRECOVERED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Grand Rapids, Wis., April 18.—While out with a party of deer hunters near Hannibal, last November, Albert Mow, one of the number who it is alleged had been drinking excessively, wandered away from the camp and disappeared in the woods. A posse was organized and every effort made to find him, but they were unsuccessful. A few days ago a pile of frozen clothes were found near Hannibal which were recognized by relatives of the missing man as those he wore at the time of his disappearance. No trace of the body has been found.

DEVICE FOR CUTTING WASHER

Bit for Carpenter's Brace, Arranged by Connecticut Man, to Cut Out Any Sized Article.

An ingenious device for cutting out washers has been invented by a Connecticut man. It is in the form of a carpenter's bit, and when inserted in a brace carves a washer out of a piece of leather in less time than it takes to tell. The bit broadens at the bottom, and has a pivotal spike running down from the center to form an axis on which it revolves. There are two horizontal slots at the bottom, through each of which runs a screw which regulates a cutting spike. There is also a rule beneath these slots in order to accurately gauge the diameter of the washer by indicating where the screws should be set. It is advisable first to set the cutters at the diameter of the outer circle of the washer so that the pivot will have something left to move on when the inner circle is cut. By inserting this bit in a carpenter's brace the washer can be cut out of the toughest piece of leather in one revolution of the brace.

MINING CAP IS MADE SAFE

Misfires in Mines Made Practically Impossible by Use of This Simple Little Article.

Misfires in mine blasting are said to be impossible with this mining cap, which is of simple construction and designed to prevent any moisture whatever from getting into the fulminate which explodes the blasting charge when it is detonated by the heat of the burning fuse. The fulminate is contained in the lower part of the cap, which fits tightly over the fuse. The upper end has an expanded portion which fits over this, and ingress of moisture is prevented.

STONE AGE IN PRESENT DAY

Interesting Discoveries Were Made by Explorer Erlend Nordenskiöld in Bolivia.

The explorer, Erlend Nordenskiöld, in the course of an ethnographic and archaeological exploration of Bolivia, in 1908 and 1909, found districts inhabited by Indians who are still living in the age of wood and stone. Because of the scarcity of stone in the Chaco region, the natives of the banks of the Pilcomayo river do not possess even stone implements, but employ bone and hard wood as the material of knives, saws, awls, needles, and spades. The virgin and unexplored forests of the province of Sara are the home of entirely wild and uncivilized Indians, called Siriono, who have no friendly intercourse with their white neighbors. It is not even known whether they form a single tribe or a number of tribes. This part of Bolivia presents the extraordinary phenomenon of natives still living in the stone age within a few miles of places which have been inhabited by white men during several centuries. Nordenskiöld obtained various implements which had been captured in primitive expeditions directed by the whites against the marauding Siriono, but he was not able to come into contact with these interesting aborigines.

Rich Harvest of Spruce Gum.
A gum hunter gathered 1,300 pounds of spruce gum the past summer in the Adirondack mountains. The most he ever secured in a single day was 30 pounds. His profits may be estimated when it is known that any druggist will gladly pay $1.50 a pound for the gum.

Daily Thought.
At whatever value a man set on himself, at that value he should be estimated by his friends.—Cleero.

GET INTO THE GAME AND EARN A PRIZE IN CORN COMPETITION

Rock County Boys Have Fine Opportunity to Test Out Scientific Methods of Corn Raising.

In addition to the fascination which is attached to the competition through the exceptional list of cash prizes, there is also the consideration of an extra fine acre of corn which will

TAKE THIS MAN'S ADVICE

Try The Great Kidney Remedy

It always gives me pleasure to recommend anything that is right and so I feel it my duty to herald the praises of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

For years I was troubled with kidney disease and it was so intense that I was bedridden for days at a time. I gave up all hope and doctors for miles around gave me no help. Incidentally I tried several patent remedies and at last tried Swamp-Root. From the first it gave me relief and it was no time before I was able to be up and around and now I am perfectly well and able to work as I used to before my terrible sickness.

So now let me thank you for your wonderful discovery and take this opportunity to recommend it to all who suffer from kidney troubles.

Yours very truly,

WALTER SHIRVER,

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 25th of March, 1912.

A. V. Ware, Notary Public.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Janesville Daily Gazette. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

doubtless yield a large amount of seed which will be worth fancy prices.

Especially the corn from the prize-winning lots will be in demand and the returns from this side of the contest will amply repay the boys for the extra trouble and work which will be necessary.

However, it is not the plan of scientific farming to make more work; it is merely a matter of doing the right thing at the right time and of knowing just what methods to follow in a given instance.

It is therefore necessary to get instructions in the matter of the best improved method of corn raising in order to have the best success in this event. Consequently the articles of Mr. Raessler should be carefully read and his instructions followed wherever possible. They will be inclusive enough to cover practically every problem which will arise.

When actual operation begins any of the boys who meet certain conditions which are not covered in any of the articles they are free to write to the Gazette corn contest editor stating their difficulty and their case will be presented to Mr. Raessler for prompt consideration. Mr. Raessler will doubtless make several inspection trips during the course of the season and will make helpful suggestions at that time.

The final object of the contest is interest of every boy in the county if possible in the matter of scientific corn raising. When he once sees the possibilities in this line of farm work through the application of intensified methods he will begin to investigate in other lines with a most beneficial result to himself and to the entire community.

Rock county is famed for her fine farms and fertile acres, but it is certain beyond a doubt that are not yielding in returns to the farmers anywhere near the amount they should. Scarcity of help is one reason for this, of course. But it is possible that methods have not been of the best. In a small way this will be tried out in the Gazette corn contest. If you haven't entered, now is the time. It is really a matter of boosting Rock county. Why not do your part especially when you will be learning something.

OPENING OF SPRING FISHING FURNISHES BETTER PRODUCT

Janesville's fish market abounds with large numbers of the finny tribe and the housewives will find that this week's fish are of a much better quality than those bought during the winter months. With the opening of the rivers and lakes the fish are beginning to swarm and the fishermen are reporting enormous catches. Besides being fresh, the fish reaches the market in an unfrozen condition which is a decided improvement to what the consumer has had for some time past. Pike and catfish caught in this vicinity are to be had at the retailers. Warm sunshine has caused the hens to get to work and large quantities of eggs offered for sale on the market caused egg prices to take a decided slump. Yesterday they came down to the 17 mark and today they went one cent lower and it is anticipated that they will remain at this price for some time. Butter is slowly declining and it is probable that it will be two or three more weeks before it takes the long sought for drop, take up local markets.

Joy of Neighborliness.

With the aid of the waves of ether, transmuted or translated into waves of sound for those who have not eyes, or into light for those who have not ears, we may find neighbors where there is greatest need, or where our noblest need is best fulfilled. Mobility, transmissibility, are they not to bring mankind nearer, if not into, the higher kingdom, even as they brought the vegetable to be an animal, to approach, and then to enter its next kingdom?—John H. Finley, in the Atlantic.

F RECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With The New Prescription.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new prescription, othine—double strength—which is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by Badger Drug Co. under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement; some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

MAYOR IS INVITED TO NAME DELEGATES TO PEACE CONGRESS

Nineteen Nations of Western Hemisphere to Participate in Great Meeting at St. Louis.

Mayor Fath has been invited to appoint five delegates from this city to the Fourth American Peace Congress, which will meet at St. Louis, May 1, 2 and 3 with representatives of at least nineteen nations of the Western Hemisphere participating.

Those nations of this hemisphere delegates from which have been either definitely named or promised in official correspondence are the United States, Canada, Mexico, Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, San Domingo, Ecuador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Uruguay and Venezuela.

President Woodrow Wilson, honorary president of the Fourth American Peace Congress, is expected to head the official delegation from Washington, and deliver an address. William Jennings Bryan, Secretary of State and one of the active vice-presidents of the peace congress, has indicated his intention to attend and speak. Andrew Carnegie, another active vice-president, who gave $11,000,000 to establish an endowment fund for international peace, has accepted an invitation to attend and deliver an address. Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice-president of the United States, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address and also to preside at one of the sessions. Many other notables are on the program.

The peace congress will be ushered in with the dedication, April 20, of the Jefferson Memorial, a $500,000 structure commemorating the Louisiana Purchase, the world's greatest peaceable acquisition of territory. The formal opening, the next day, of the peace congress will be active with the western group oratorical contest of the Inter-collegiate Peace Society, for a prize of $100, the winners of state contests in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, South Dakota and Texas competing.

PRESENT COUPONS TODAY.

Thousands of Cyclopaedia Sets Ready for Distribution.

The great book bargain day has arrived. Coupons will be redeemed today at this office as shown. In the coupon, printed on another page of today's paper.

This five-volume reference work is known as Everybody's Cyclopaedia, and contains accurate information on all subjects. It is a convenient size, easy to handle, modern and complete.

Every schoolboy and girl, every man and woman needs this handy set, and cannot afford to miss the opportunity of getting it at the bargain price offered today and tomorrow.

For these two days the complete set of five volumes will be given to readers of The Gazette, for $2.35 and one coupon. The regular selling price of this five-volume set is $12. It pays to be a reader of The Gazette.

Millions of dollars are spent in putting out expensive sets that sell on the installment plan all the way from $5 to $100 each. Everybody's Cyclopaedia is a combination of all the useful information contained in the large cumbersome sets, but it is carefully "billed down" to meet the needs of all who require a complete, accurate and authoritative reference work.

This offer is the result of the largest book order ever placed with a publisher, and readers are now given the benefit of it. The Gazette guarantees to refund the amount paid by any reader who finds that Everybody's Cyclopaedia is not entirely satisfactory and as represented.

The sets are too bulky to be sent by mail, but out-of-town readers can get them for $2.35; the sets to be sent by express, shipping charges to be paid by the receiver.

Knudson, Orfordville, Wis., yudder claim for cows; Reinhold Krumming, Milwaukee, Wis., spring binder for loose sheets; Thomas B. Kucynski, Milwaukee, Wis., garment hanger; Otto T. Lademan, Milwaukee, Wis., signaling system; Myron C. Lisle, Milwaukee, belt connector; George M. Pelton, Milwaukee, Wis., concrete mixer; Peter Thilges, Kenosha, Wis., evaporator.

Childish Constancy.

If only we realized it, if only we cultivated it more, we could see with clear-eyed vision that all of a child's original nature breathes constancy. It is an essential strength of the undeveloped child's nature to be constant. Not until our own false examples have attacked the natural purity of the child does it become inconstant—unreliable.

—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Black Creek, Wis., Feb 17th 1913.

Dr. N. A. Goddard,

Dear Sir:—

It is with pleasure that I write to you to let you know that after taking your treatment, I am completely cured.

When I began treatment with you I weighed 127 lbs. and now I weigh 149 lbs.

I had been sick for two years, and had doctored with different doctors, but they didn't help me, they wanted to operate on me, so one day I met one of your patients and she told me to come and see you and I am very thankful that I did.

I am pleased to have this statement published and hope it will help someone to believe in you. Wishing you success I remain,

Yours very truly,

MISS MARTHA SCHINKLE, Box 4, R. F. D. No. 32, Black Creek, Wis.

I make a specialty of Treating Chronic Diseases and if you are a sufferer from Chronic Appendicitis, Rupture, Gall Stone Colic, Gout, or Chronic Diseases peculiar to the Sexes, you should be glad to avail yourself of the opportunity to consult me free of charge on my next visit to Janesville, Tuesday, April 22, at the Hotel Myers.

I attribute my success in curing such cases principally to the fact that I do not attempt anything that I cannot do, and to the fact that I do whatever I attempt to accomplish in treating these cases. I do not accept any incurable cases and I give a written legal guarantee of service to those whom I do accept for treatment.

I have recently published a little book entitled, Modern Methods of Treating Chronic Diseases without operations, which I will give free to any one who will ask or write for it.

Ladies suffering from troubles peculiar to their sex should by all means secure the doctor's advice. ALL MATTERS SACREDLY CONFIDENTIAL.

REMEMBER, Dr. Goddard accepts no incurable cases.

REMEMBER, He gives a written legal guarantee of service in those cases he does accept.

Remember his charges are within reach of all.

DR. GODDARD, Milwaukee Specialist, will be at Janesville, Tuesday April 22nd, at the Myers Hotel. Hours: 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. Consultation Free, if you cannot call, write him at his permanent address, 121 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee, Wis.

UNCLE WALT The Poet Philosopher

Copyright, 1908, by George Matthew Adams
BY WALT MASON

The old hen sits, with feathers ruffled, upon her bunch of fourteen eggs; for three long weeks she hasn't scuffed around the yard on scratching legs. She's tended strictly to her knitting—fidelity's the old hen's boast; by day and night still brooding, sitting, the martyr mother, at her post. And now, the time has come for hatching, and soon the old hen, swelled with pride, around the dooryard will be scratching. SET: her fluffy offspring at her side. Then mark, O mark her guard HEN and cherish the welfare of her little flock! Before she'd see one chicken perish, she'd walk a wildcat or a hawk. And when the lightning and the thunder announce the sudden, petting storm, the chickens crawl her wings under, and she protects them with her form. There's nothing, truly, more affecting than mother love that old hens bear, as they go clucking round, prospecting to find their children's bill of fare. I sympathize with orphan chickens hatched out in patent tin machines; I can't imagine what the chickens that sort of innovation means. To rob a chicken of its mother—to ride its owner on a rail: One crime's as low down as the other, and each should send a man to jail.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

WALL PAPER.

By Howard L. Rann.

WALL paper is a highly decorative form of art which people buy in the spring and would be glad to sell at half price in the fall. It is the only form of mural art which can be bought by the roll and shipped on in one day by a bibliographer or a talkative disposition.

Wall paper is bought for two purposes only—first, to cover up the coarse and unattractive drawing of the last paper hanger, and second, to match the lace curtains.

Sensitive people object to a pink wall paper shading off into a new rug with red roses in the center and green peas in the border, and prefer natural plaster, adorned with some familiar rural scene, like grandpa milking at sunset. Other people buy their wall paper in some solid color, which will fade about half up and look like a blonde switch picked out by mail.

Wall paper is usually bought at the drug store, where several thousand patterns are hung to the breeze by a languid clerk who doesn't care what you buy so long as you buy it quick. After a woman has sat in a drug store for two hours and watched

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THE POWER OF ASSOCIATION.

YESTERDAY morning I sat down to do some sewing in the happiest of moods. And then, as I reached out my hand and took up the piece of sewing, there swept over me such a feeling of depression and unhappiness that it actually seemed to me as if dark clouds had shut out the bright morning sun.

And what do you think was the reason? Simply this.—The last time I had sewed on that particular article I had been in that mood of depression and discouragement, and when I took it up again the wonderful power of association momentarily brought back the mood.

What a tremendous force this power of association is! It almost seems as if some actual force like electricity were lurking in that bit of sewing, ready to come to life at my touch.

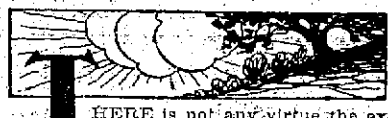

And what wonderful power it has to make us happy or unhappy, to lend charm or destroy it! The robin's morning call seems a very sweet and happy sound to me. My mother hates it. It seems that one summer when she was a little girl she was very ill. Night after night she lay awake, tortured by pain, and then, just at dawn, when the pain subsided and she might have fallen blessedly asleep, the robins would begin to call to each other and keep it up until sleep had been driven away. That was over sixty years ago, and still she remembers when she hears that sound.

The power of association has much to do with our preferences in the way of names.—more, I think, than we realize. If we really try I believe we can trace most of our likes and dislikes in this matter back to people who have borne the name. For instance, I have a deep love for the name David. I love to hear it spoken, not because I think it is musical or beautiful in itself, but for the sake of the world of letters, the David of Barrie's "Little White Bird."

Taste and smell are two of the humblest of our senses. They seem purely physical, whereas hearing, and sight are more mental. And yet taste and smell are the commonest channels of this tremendous force of association. Do you remember in Cranford when Peter's father forced him for some trick and he ran away? "I was in the store room helping my mother to make cowslip wine," writes dear Miss Mattie in describing this dreadful occasion. "I cannot abide the wine now nor the scent of the flowers. They turn me sick and faint as they did that day when Peter came in."

And again, is there anything more powerful in all Kipling than that wonderful refrain, "The smell of the wattle at Lichtenburg, riding in the rain"? Yes, it certainly is a wonderful thing, this power of association. Nor is it just dreams, like me who think so. Already the scientists have made wonderful use of it in the guilling of criminals and in the treatment of nervous diseases. Who knows what they will do with it before the twentieth century is past.

The Kitchen Cabinet

HERE is not any virtue the exercise of which even momentarily will not impress a new fairness upon the features.

SUNDAY NIGHT TEA.

A dainty and nice little salad to prepare for a night lunch is dates and cottage cheese. The cheese should be well seasoned and arranged on lettuce leaves, with three or four dates carefully stoned and washed and arranged on the cheese. No salad dressing will be needed with such a salad.

Figs and nuts ground together in a food chopper and seasoned with a bit of salt and moistened with a tablespoonful of cream makes a fine filling for sandwiches. For a refreshing spring sandwich nothing tastes better than sliced cucumbers with a bit of onion juice and lemon on bread and butter.

Chopped green onions, seasoned with oil, vinegar and salt, make another good sandwich filling. A cup of hot cocoa on a chilly night is most acceptable, and with a salad is enough for a simple meal.

After a late-heavy Sunday dinner, a very light lunch is best. For those who are not satisfied with that, a heavier dish, such as sliced roast of beef with Mexican or Spanish sauce, or an escalloped dish of eggs, macaroni and cheese and white sauce will be found quite satisfying enough.

Milk toast, made of nicely toasted and buttered bread and a white sauce of rich milk or thin cream, is an especially good supper for little people.

A hot soup on a cold night warms one and is a good beginning for a light supper.

For older ones the addition of grated cheese will be pleasing, and they will not find it hard of digestion. Small cakes of many kinds, with a dish of canned fruit, is another good accompaniment with other things for a supper.

Spongy cakes cut open and filled with sweetened and flavored whipped cream are never refused by old or young, and this is one cake the youngsters like and are not injured by eating.

Sardines and Pinola Sandwiches.—Mix twelve, boned and skinned sardines with a tablespoonful of chopped stuffed olives or pinolas, add a tablespoonful of lemon juice and use for filling between buttered slices of white bread.

GORGEOUS EVENING GOWN BY LACROIX

One of the most modish evening gowns of the season is this gorgeous creation of yellow satin with lace tunic and drapery of beads. The trimming is of yellow and orange flowers. The design is by Lacroix of Paris.

Making Extra Trouble.

A traveler in a southern state reached a town one night where the only hotel had a single bathroom. Feeling tired and dusty after his trip, the traveler summoned the porter and asked him to make ready the bath. "Laws, massa," exclaimed the negro, "you gemmen gimme lots of wuk. Here it is only Thursday and wanting a bath. Can't you wait until Saturday, like the other white folks?"

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys have been fighting with smugglers." "I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for moving picture outfits."

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. L. H. THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a young man about a year and a half. He is a nice fellow, but he is so slow. He let on he had so much, but I have found out he hasn't got very much. As I have waited on him to get something ahead, anyway before and he hasn't any more than the first, so I don't think I should wait on him any longer.

We were engaged five or six months. I have broken the engagement. He keeps the ring back by registered mail, or keep it until he calls for it?

You didn't give him much chance to make good. Perhaps it is better to be cautious now, so you will not regret anything afterward. Anyway, I do not think you love him enough to put up with him, even if he is a nice fellow.

Send the ring back.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—If a fellow takes two girls to a theater, how should they go in? should the boy sit in the middle? (2)—I went with a fellow four years. I loved him and he loved me, but he was always jealous of me, so we couldn't agree. Haven't went with him for a year. Should I ever pay any attention to him or try to win him again? (3)—Is there any harm in kissing and kissing a fellow if you haven't met him very many times? (4)—Is my writing good?

(1)—He follows the ladies. He should sit next the aisle unless the ladies ask him to sit between them. (2)—If you can't agree you had better stay parted. (3)—Better know that he wants to marry you before you do any kissing and kissing. Otherwise you cheapen yourself in his opinion. (4)—No very.

Here and there for the past few months I have seen paragraphs written on "Card Indexing in the Home." Many letters have come to me from housekeepers requesting me to tell them more definitely how to arrange a card index system which they could follow.

Women who have been in the business world and later taken up house-keeping turn instinctively to the card index system for simplifying the business management of their homes, but with the average woman who knows nothing of the outside business world, this is new to her and should have a clear, definite answer.

Very naturally I have been much interested in all women who have written on this subject, as more than five years ago I worked out a card index system for my cooking recipes, housekeeper's expense cards, menu maker, floor combination, and a general index of all my business as a cooking lecturer, teacher, author and housekeeper.

System is not a thing to be disliked by women. It is the systematic order of things which makes the wheels of the machinery, whether in the home or office, run smoothly without friction; not with an iron-clad rule, but a flexible one which adapts itself to the necessary interruptions which come into the home. Work never made wrinkles rarely ever ill health. Worry does both, and the card system is to save these two things.

In our card index for cooking recipes we use four by six-inch cards,

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—I am a girl of 16 and am in love with a young man. He wants me to marry him, but my parents object very strongly. He wants me to elope with him. What should I do? (2)—Am I too young to get married? (3)—He is a nice man, but do you think he loves me very much by not wanting to wait until I am 18.

(1)—Don't elope, my dear. A girl of 16 doesn't know as much as her parents do and it is well to head their advice. You will be glad by-and-by if you listen to them now. (2)—Yes. (3)—If he really loves you he will know it is best for both of you to wait until you are at least 18.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—What will make hair grow? (2)—What is good for pimples?

(1)—Rub a little vaseline into the scalp two or three times a week. Give the hair an egg shampoo once a month. Brush hair well every day, and keep brush and oil combs clean. (2)—See that your stomach is in good condition and take Epsom Salts if the bowels do not move freely. Don't eat pastry, rich gravies, candies, etc. Eat plenty of fruits and vegetables and drink at least a quart of pure water every day. Bathe frequently and use hot water and a good soap on the face before going to bed. Rinse the face well with clear water and apply a cream of 10 gr. salicylic acid, 1 dr. calomel, 1 oz. lard.

which are large enough to see writing or printing plainly when hung up over the kitchen table, or any other place where they are necessary to be hung for information.

Then we have an "Expense Card for Housekeepers" which is of the same size, with guide cards printed for the months of the year, such as April, May, June, etc. Back of each month are distributed fifty-two weekly cards, twelve monthly cards and one yearly card—up bookkeeping, no itemizing, but simple, automatic keeping of accounts, quickly and accurately, and called Housekeeper's Expense Cards.

The daily card is divided into columns for days of the week, Monday, Tuesday, etc., also space for groceries, meats, fuel, light, service, ice, laundry, etc. When the goods are delivered, whether paid for or charged, a bill is always with them. Simply put down on the card for that particular thing the total amount—groceries, or meat, or laundry, or whatever it may be. Do this each day; it only takes a few moments and at the end of the week carry out the totals and the card balances itself.

Any necessary notes may be made on the back of the card. Many women are using this easy method of keeping accounts and tell me they would not be without them, as they know just where they stand from day to day in "income and outgo." In other words, it is a "check" on outgo, which is just as essential in the home as among business men.

One woman said to me, "These cards would be of no use to me as I could not possibly save any more than I do." I asked her if she would take two cards for two weeks and return to me what she thought of them. She came in at the expiration of the time and said, "It was perfectly appalling at what I was losing under miscellaneous."

When this was settled in the box or drawer with our cooking recipes, then we looked for new words to conquer.

When I buy darning cotton, I immediately wind it in single strand on to an empty spool, so as to have it ready for the machine when needed. I do most of my darning on the machine.

To Keep Thread in Order.—Take a board about half inch thick and as long and wide as machine drawer, in side measurements. Drive through it about two inches apart, large nails. File ends of nails flat. Place this board in the drawer and put spools of thread on nails, keeping each color and number in a group by itself. In this way the drawer is kept neat and there is no fumbling around for a certain spool.

When Doing Embroidery with many headed tacks in the wall or window sill near at hand, and on them hang the cut skeins. They will not become tangled and are easily handled. Have them hung as the numbers come and when done slip the number tag to one end and wrap on folded paper, leaving the number visible.

Mexican Rice.—Butter baking dish well, put in layer of cooked rice, salt, pepper and a little butter, then a layer of tomatoes in which you have added a dash of red pepper; then alternate layers of rice and tomatoes, until pan is almost filled. Sprinkle top with cracker crumbs. Bake about 30 minutes.

Apple Pudding.—Here is a good pudding for the busy mother to make often. Sift one cup of flour, one cup of sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, four apples, one tablespoon minute tapioca, one cup water.

Pare apples and cut them in halves. Take out cores, put bit of butter, sugar and nutmeg in each, place and arrange them in bottom of baking dish. Cook apples and water a few minutes, when clear, stir into the milk, sugar, salt and beaten eggs. Pour this around apples and bake until they are tender.

Chicken In Blanket.—Roll chicken as usual. Half hour before serving make biscuit dough by sifting three cups flour with five teaspoons baking powder and one teaspoon salt, then work in three tablespoons shortening and mix to a stiff dough with milk and water. Roll out half inch thick and place over chicken in pan, allowing one to trail in the gravy. Return to the oven and bake until brown.

Jelly Roll Recipe

Only Two Eggs Required

By Mrs. Janet McKim, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

This Jelly Roll is fast becoming very popular on account of the way it keeps fresh. With proper handling it should keep fresh a whole week, providing it isn't eaten up in the meantime, for it is every bit as good as it looks.

Beat the sugar into the eggs; add the lemon rind, then the flour, sifted three times with the salt and baking powder, and lastly, the milk. Beat in a thick, luscious batter. Turn out on a greased dripping pan, turn out on a greased cloth, trim off the crisp edges, spread with jelly and turn over and over into a roll while still warm. Dredge the top with powdered sugar.

Hot milk used in the jelly roll enables it to be rolled without danger of cracking. Have the milk scalding-hot also be careful to have the eggs and sugar beaten together until very light and creamy. Bake in a moderate oven.

K C Jelly Roll is illustrated on page thirty-two of the new and handsomely illustrated 64-page K C Cook's Book, which may be secured free by sending the certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the J. C. McCracken Co., Chicago, Ill.

Food for Mothers and Children

Mothers and children need just what a rich, nourishing food as Rona Dutch Cocoa. Physicians prescribe for growing children and young mothers. It excels coffee and other drinks because it is a gentle stimulant.

VAN HOUTEN'S RONA DUTCH COCOA

But you must be sure to use Rona Dutch Cocoa. For Rona is made in Holland by the Dutch process—it is much richer, smoother, finer. Each sip of this refreshing, healthful food drink is a source of strength and vitality. And it's cheaper than domestic cocoa because it grows twice as far. A 25c can makes 4 cups. Two sizes—10c and 25c.

Clean floors and doors with GOLD DUST

Add a little Gold Dust to your scrubbing water, and you can clean your floors, doors and woodwork in a jiffy. Gold Dust is such a superior cleanser that it does the hardest part of the work, and requires little scrubbing. It does the work; you simply aid it.

Gold Dust will do the work better than soap or any other cleanser, making your woodwork look like new.

For cleaning anything and everything about the house nothing is so quickly effective as Gold Dust. It's the cleansing marvel of the age!

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work!"

HELPS GIRLS WHO SEEK HIGHER WAGE

Mrs. Sarah Conboy.

Five thousand employees, mostly young girls in the silk throwing mills of the Lackawanna valley in Pennsylvania, are closer to higher wages as a result of a conference between a committee of the Pennsylvania Silk Association and the representatives of the Central Labor Union, headed by Mrs. Sarah Conboy.

It is expected that at a future conference a uniform wage scale will be adopted, providing for an increase of wages of from ten to fourteen per cent.

SOMEBODY COULD USE IT

Did you ever have that thought as you were ready to send an old Bed to the attic; or to have a used Dresser or Side Board broken into kindling?

It's a thought that comes into hundreds of minds at this season of the year when house cleaning is at hand and the old furniture is being discarded and new things being purchased.

True too, hundreds of the pieces of furniture that will be destroyed this spring in Janesville would give years of service and satisfaction to families whose fortunes are such that they cannot afford new things. Price them low, and they will sell as readily as though they were the finest of new goods. Not only will you be making a neat sum for yourself but you will be allowing others an opportunity to have things they could get in no other way.

USE THE CLASSIFIED PAGE

Every day the Gazette goes into 6000 homes. In many of these they are thrifly watching for opportunities to buy used furniture. A short description of what you are ready to discard, with price, would sell them readily.

QUIT CALOMEL

Thousands Are Turning From This Dangerous Drug.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute Is Olive Tablets for the Liver

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a new laxative and liver tonic in a combination of vegetable materials, mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like the old and untrustworthy calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects of calomel.

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers. His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him years ago towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he is today in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, Olive-oil calomel tablet.

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in these marvelous little tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They oil the bowels, and their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

They are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Be careful of letters and written statements generally, for some trouble threatens you from this source. Refrain from committing yourself in any way until you see good reasons for action.

Those born today will be untruthful and naturally selfish, with little regard for others. They will have talents and are quick to learn, however, and the secret for their success is to so instruct them from earliest youth that the right way seems interesting and the wrong way dull and stupid.

THE PURCHASE PRICE; OR, THE CAUSE OF COMPROMISE

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1910, by Emerson Hough

Captain Rogers pondered for a time, but at length his face broke out into a sort of smile. "There may be trouble ahead for you," he said. "Some sorts of women won't lead."

Dunwoody, left to himself, began moodily to walk up and down the narrow deck, his hands behind his back. On his face was the red-fighting flush, but it was backed by no expression of definite purpose, and his walk showed his mental uncertainty. All at once he turned and with decision passed down the stairs to the lower deck. He had heard voices which he recognized.

Judge Clayton had joined the party in charge of the fugitives, and was now in conversation with the overseer, a short man clad in a coarse blue jacket, with high boots and greasy leather trousers.

"Why, judge," said he, "just off it didn't look like we'd ever get track of 'em at all. I cotched the trail at Portsmouth at last and followed 'em back into Ohio. They was sure on the 'underground' and bound for Canada, or, leastways Chicago. I found 'em in a house way out in the country—midnight it was when we got there. I'd summoned the sheriff and two constables to go long. Farm-house was a 'underground' railway station, all right, and the farmer showed fight. We was too much for him, and we took 'em out at last, but one of the constables got shot. Some one fired right through the window at us."

"Now, judge," he continued, "of course I think I can do something for these two bucks, Bill and Jim. This gal only persuaded 'em to run away with her. But if I was you I shore would sell that Lily gal south right away."

The speaker, coarse and ignorant, presented a contrast to the tall, dignified and quiet gentleman whom he accosted.

"Lily," said Clayton at length, "what makes you act this way? Haven't you always been treated well down there at home?"

"Yes, sir; I reckon so," replied the girl sullenly; "well as anybody's niggers is."

"Then why do you want to run off? This is the third time in the last year. I've been kind to you—I say, Dunwoody," he went on, turning suddenly as he saw the latter approach.

"Haven't I always treated my people right? Haven't I always given them everything in the world they ought to have?"

"Yes, judge; that's the truth, and any neighbor of yours will say it," assented Dunwoody as he joined the group. "What's wrong then? This Lily girl run off again? Seems to me you told me about her."

"Yes," said Judge Clayton, rubbing a finger across his chin in perturbation; "the poor thing doesn't know when she's well off. But what am I to do with her—that's the question? I don't believe in whipping, but in this case, Wilson, I'm going to turn over those two boys to you. I won't have the girl whipped even yet. I'll see you when we get down to Cairo," he added, turning away. "We'll have to change there to the Sally Lee, for the Vernon doesn't stop at our landing. She's going straight through to Memphis."

As Judge Clayton walked away Dunwoody turned to the overseer, whom he had seen before on the Clayton plantations. He put a gold double eagle in his hand.

"Listen here, Wilson," said he, "you seem to be able to handle such people discreetly. Now I've got a prisoner, along upstairs, myself—never mind who she is or how she comes here. I'm going on up home, beyond St. Genevieve, and I've got to change down there at Cairo myself to take the up river boat. This prisoner is about as tall as that girl yonder, and she's a whole lot lighter, do you understand? Of a dark night—say about the time we'd get down to Cairo, midnight—well wrapped up and the face of net-ther showing, it might be hard to tell one of them from the other. There's a French girl along with this prisoner of mine. Just take them both along together. I reckon the French girl won't make any disturbance—it's the other, the lady, her mistress. She's apt to make trouble. Handle her gently as you can. You'll have to have help. The captain will not interfere. You just substitute my prisoner for yours yonder at Cairo. I'll show you where she is when the time comes. Once you have her aboard my boat for St. Genevieve you can come back and take care of your own prisoners here. There may be another eagle or so in it."

"You don't need to be a-skiered but what I'll do the work, colonel," smiled Wilson grimly. "I've had a heap of trouble the last week, and I'm about tired. I'll not stand no foolishness."

And any friend seen Warville Dunwoody that night he must have pronounced him ten years older than when the Mount Vernon ad begun her voyage.

CHAPTER V.

The Shadow Cabinet—Tailwinds.

"ALL very well, gentlemen! All very well!" repeated the man who sat at the head of the table. "I do not deny anything you say. None the less, the question remains, What were we to do with this woman, since she was here? I confess my own relief at this message from our agent, Captain Carlisle, telling of her temporary disappearance."

As he spoke he half pushed back his chair as though in impatience or agitation over the problem, which evidently occupied his mind. A man above medium height, somewhat spare in habit of body, of handsome features and distinguished presence, although with hair now slightly thinned by advancing years, he seemed, if not by natural right, at least by accorded authority, the leader of this company with whose members he was not unwilling to take counsel.

Those who sat before him were his counselors, chosen by himself, in manner ratified by law and custom. They made, as with propriety, may be stated, a remarkable body of men. It were less seemly openly to determine their names and their station, since they were public men, and since, as presently appeared, they now were engaged on business of such a nature as might not be placed in full upon public records.

At least it may be stated that this meeting was held, in the autumn of the year 1880 and in one of the great public buildings of the city of Washington. Apparently it was more private than official in its nature and apparently it now had lasted for some time. The hour was late.

The dark browed man at the leader's right began to speak. His voice, deep and clear as that of a great bronze bell, was slow and deliberate, as fittingly voicing an accurate mind.

"Sir," he said, "this matter is one deserving our most careful study, trivial thought, first blush it would seem. As to the danger of this woman's machinations here there is no question. A match may produce con-

"You just substitute my prisoner for yours."

visions, explosion, disaster, when applied to a powder magazine. As you know, this country dwells continually above an awful magazine. At any time there may be an explosion which will mean ruin not only for our party but our country. The Free Soil party, twice defeated, does not down. There is a nationalist movement now going forward which ignores the constitution itself. With you, I dread any talk, any act, of our own or another nation, which shall even indirectly inflame the northern resentment against the fugitive slave law."

"On that we are perfectly agreed, sir," began the original speaker, "and then—"

"But then, sir, we come to the question of the removal of this unwelcome person. She herself is a fugitive from no law. She has broken no law of this land or of this district. I may be unwelcome to you, yet, having done no treason so long as we pay our debts and observe the law, no man may raise hand or voice against us."

"Quite right," broke in the leader again. "But let us look simply at the gravity of it. They say it is treason not only against our own country, but against a foreign power, which this woman is fomenting. The Austrian attaches, Mr. Bismarck, is altogether rabid over the matter. He said to me privately—"

"Then most improperly!" broke in a tall, dark man.

"Improperly," but none the less insistently, he said, that his government will not tolerate her reception here. He charges her with machinations in Europe, under cover of President Taylor's embassy of investigation into Hungarian affairs."

"But, sir," broke in the vibrant voice of another gentleman, "what is our concern over that? Did they force us to fight with them, we might fight, and with proper reason."

"True again," said the leader, recognizing the force of the murmur which greeted this outburst. "But what I fear, what all of us fear, gentlemen, is the danger here, inside our own walls, inside our own country."

Silence again fell on all. They looked about them as though even in this dimly lighted room they felt the menace of a divided country.

"That is the dread of all of us," went on the leader. "Let the abolitionist bring on this outbreak which he covets, let the north and south try at each other's throats, let the contending powers of Europe cross the seas to quarrel over the spoils of our own destruction—and what then will be left of this republic?"

"And I tell you now, gentlemen," he concluded, "as you know very well yourselves, that this woman, here in Washington, would hold the match ready to apply to that magazine. Gentlemen, I am mild as any, and most of any I am sworn to obey the laws and to guarantee the safeguards of the constitution; but I say to you—and here his hand came down with an emphasis unusual in his nature—"law or no law, constitution or no constitution, an exigency existed under which she had to leave Washington, and that upon that very night."

"But where is she now?" ventured another voice. "This young army captain simply says in his report that he left her on the Mount Vernon packet en route down the Ohio. Where is she now and how long before she will be back here, march in hand?"

INTRODUCES BILL TO REFORM CURRENCY

Senator Hitchcock.

Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, a member of the senate committee that will prepare currency legislation, has introduced a currency reform bill in the upper house of congress. It would establish twenty distinct national reserve associations, with wide power of note issue, discount and exchange.

DINNER STORIES

Eleven o'clock was the hour, and the lady was both tired and bored. He was paying his addresses to her, but she was not very sweet on him, and yet she did not know how to dispose of him kindly and gently.

Half an hour later he was still rambling on; and then he turned to that ever-offerent subject, his health.

"Yes, Miss Mollie," he said, "I know I'm not well. Seldom, indeed, do I feel myself. It's only my nerve that keeps me up at all."

She was a nice girl, but she couldn't resist the temptation. It was too, too much.

"Oh," she said meekly, "that's funny! That's what's keeping me up too!"

Then he departed slowly, sadly, forever and a day.

In a circuit court of Missouri during a "horse case" a horseman well known throughout the state for his expert knowledge was called as a witness. "Now, saw this horse?" asked counsel for the defendant. "Yes, sir."

"What did you do?" "Yes, sir, I saw his mouth in order to ascertain how old he was and, I said to him, I said, 'Old fellow, I guess you're a good horse yet." At this juncture opposing counsel leaped to his feet. "Your honor," he cried, "I object to the statement of any conversation between the witness and the horse when the plaintiff was not present!"

Two little girls became involved in a quarrel the other day which culminated in physical violence. One of the mothers took her little daughter to task very sternly. Wishing to emphasize the enormity of her offense, the mother said: "It's the devil who tells you to do such naughty things."

The little girl replied, between sobs: "He may have told me to pull her hair, but I thought of kicking her shins all by myself."

Enemies.

Knicker—"Jones says he is an impressionist." Becker—"Then I am a suppressionist."

Know Each Other

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D. D.,
Dean of the Moody Bible Institute,
Chicago.

TEXT—For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even you in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ, at His coming? 1 Thess. 2:19.

What more interesting and tender question do Christians ever put one to another than this—Shall we know each other in the life to come? The Bible nowhere definitely answers that question, but the inferences are many of an affirmative kind.

For example, there is the universality of the belief or hope of the resurrection, which is expressed on every tombstone and heard in the hymnody of the church in all the centuries. A belief of a few men in a few places is not a sufficient ground of evidence, but a belief of all men in all places is very different. God would seem to be the author of a belief like this, and if so, there must be a ground for it.

In the second place, the reasonableness of the idea strengthens the conviction of its truth. For example, the resurrection of which the Bible speaks is one of individuals, but individuals are capable of identifying themselves only as they identify others with whom they were associated. If, in other words, we shall know our selves in the resurrection, then we must know others who have helped to make us what we are. But the object of the resurrection is equally convincing, since it is to bring reward to the righteous and punishment to the wicked. These rewards and punishments are based upon the deeds done in the body, but to remember the deeds, we must remember those for or against whom the deeds were done.

What the Bible Says.
In the third place, while the testimony of the Bible in this respect is not definitely clear, it is inferentially so. Certainly Christ's words to Martha with reference to the resurrection of her brother Lazarus, imply that in the resurrection they would be known one to another. Read the story in the eleventh of John to prove this. Furthermore, we have the teaching of Jesus in the parable of the unjust steward, recorded in Luke 16, where he says: "Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that when ye fail they may receive you into everlasting habitations." It is difficult to interpret this in any other way than that in the life to come those saints of whom we have made friends here by our treatment of them will know and welcome us into the joys beyond. And Paul's words in the text are to the same purpose.

Possible Objections.
It is no objection to this that Jesus teaches in another place (Matthew 22:30) that in the resurrection there is neither marrying nor giving in marriage, for such relationship is not necessary to identify nor the spiritual joy of it.

Some would say that in the life to come many friends would be missed who have not died in the faith of Christ, and that from such a point of view recognition and reunion would make for sorrow instead of joy. But as Bishop Mant says:

"Fear not the prospect of the realms of glory. Shall not thy bliss, or thence and lights arise To blunt thy sense of heaven's ecstasies? There, if thy heart with warm devotion glow, Meet for thy place, 'twill solace thee to know No friend of thine, mid those keen agonies In the dark prison-house of torment lies. For none is there but is of God the foe! And alien thus from thee: The ties of blood, And earth's most sacred bonds, are but a twine Of grassman, compared with what is owed To Him, the Lord of all! On Him recline: He shall thy heart of every care unload, He bid thy day with cloudless lustre shine."

The practical effect of such a hope as this is an extended one. In the first place, it brings us strongly under the power of heavenly realities. In the second place, it induces us to form only holy friendships that can be continued through eternity. In the third place, it affords the most precious consolation to the bereaved.

As year by year we lose Friends out of sight, to know "How grows in Paradise our store!"

Let the fact be emphasized in closing, that we are talking about Christians and not the unbelieving people of the world. True Christians are those who have received Jesus Christ as their Saviour by faith, and who, regenerated by his holy spirit, are following him as Lord and master. It is these who have this hope before them, and only these. Let us then ask ourselves with candor, as in the sight of God, whether we belong to this blessed company.

FRENCH BULLDOG SHOW IS HELD AT NEW YORK
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, April 18.—The fourth annual show of the French Bulldog Club of America opened on the roof of the hotel Astor today with a record-breaking display of this fashionable breed of canine. An offering of many special prizes and more than one thousand dollars in money attracted blue-ribbon dogs from nearly all of the famous kennels of the United States. Canada, also was represented, for the first time in the history of the breed. The judging of exhibits and award of prizes was begun this afternoon and will continue until the show closes tomorrow night.

Jacob's Meeting With Esau. Gen. xxxii:3-xxxiii:17.
Golden Text: Be ye kind one to another, tender hearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you. Eph. iv:32.

(1.) Verses 3-5—What were the circumstances in connection with Jacob's leaving his father's home some twenty-one years previous?

(2.) What are the possibilities of a guilty conscience in inflicting punishment?

(3.) Verses 6-8—In view of God's forgiveness and his promise to protect him why was Jacob afraid?

(4.) Verses 9-12—When we are in fear what is the best thing to do?

(5.) What are the elements of true prayer, taking this prayer of Jacob as a model?

(6.) To what extent is material prosperity a sign of God's special favor?

(7.) In what way have God's promises to Jacob been fulfilled?

(8.) Verses 13-23—If Jacob had not injured Esau in the past and therefore were not now afraid of him would he have made him such valuable gifts? Why?

(9.) What would be the probable and natural effect upon Esau in seeing this vast number of animals coming to him at intervals as presents?

(10.) What would be the probable value of these animals which Jacob sent as presents to Esau today?

(11.) Show the skill and tact which Jacob displays in this incident and say what suggestion there is in it for us.

(12.) Verses 24-31—It would appear that the man who wrote this narrative thought of God as a physical being, but was Jacob's wrestle with God physical or spiritual? Why? (See Eph. vi:12.)

(13.) What takes place when a man wrestles with God?

(14.) In this spiritual contest how did Jacob know when he had prevailed?

(15.) If we are sufficiently in earnest to take every grave problem or serious difficulty to God and wrestle with him until we get the answer, may we be sure of victory? Why?

(16.) Chap. xxxiii:1-7—Would you say that Esau displayed this affection for Jacob from his own original choice, or was he won influenced by God and the presents? Why?

(17.) Did Jacob even now show that he had absolute confidence in God's answer to his prayer?

(18.) Is there such a thing as absolute confidence at the time of a dangerous crisis until it is over?

(19.) Verses 8-11—Was Esau's display of unwillingness to take the presents real?

(20.) Verses 12-17—Which gives us the more trouble, anticipated or realized calamity? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

STICKS TO HIS OLD BLACK SLOUCH HAT

Charles Forrest Curry.

Charles Forrest Curry, the new representative from the Third district of California, went to the state capitol in Sacramento in 1886, professing Republicanism and wearing a long black frock coat and a huge black sombrero. He still sticks unwaveringly to all three attributes. He is known in his state as a sort of perpetual candidate for governor. He was elected to the new congress by the largest majority of any congressman from his state.

REGENTS AND FACULTY DECIDE ON NEW RULE

Rushing and Pledging of Freshmen Prohibited Before First of May Hereafter.

Madison, Wis., April 18.—No rushing or pledging of freshmen by fraternities before the first day of May hereafter, and no ostentatious rushing at any time, will be permitted at the University of Wisconsin, according to the action of the university faculty which was approved by the regents at their April meeting yesterday.

It was also voted upon faculty recommendation that whenever further regulations for the control of fraternities and sororities are adopted by three-fourths of the fraternities or sororities or both, and when these regulations are not in violation of faculty regulations, the student interests committee of the faculty shall have power subject to faculty approval, to make these regulations binding on all of the fraternities and sororities.

The fraternity regulations now prohibit freshmen from lodging or boarding in a fraternity house, from being rushed before May 1, or from being initiated before the beginning of his sophomore year. Freshmen cannot be pledged before they enter the university, nor can students coming from other universities become affiliated with the local chapters of fraternities before their sophomore year. The new regulations are regarded as materially strengthening the rules governing the fraternities, inasmuch as they make the action of a majority of the fraternities binding upon all of them, when such regulations are in accordance with faculty rules. The new regulations also give the faculty committee power to put into effect new regulations.

His Secret.
The secret of a certain great man's power, it is said, was that if he gave any one his time at all he gave him for the moment the whole of it—all his attention, interest and best thought while the interview lasted. It is that sort of giving of one's whole self to the matter in hand that constitutes power. The divided mind lacks force, the straying thought weakens all mental processes. The habit of concentration is strength.

This Should Keep The Baby Healthy

When It Is Ill Don't Become Alarmed But Give This Fine Laxative.

It is often difficult to tell just what is the matter with a crying, peevish baby or child too young to express its feelings in words, but as a general rule the mother will find that there is a tendency to constipation, which has brought on a headache or nervousness. The little one has no pain, but feels out of sorts.

The first thing to try is a family remedy containing good, but mild laxative properties, and many mothers will say that their choice would be Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers keep it in the house for such emergencies, among whom may be mentioned Mrs. Jennie Manuel, Altamont, Ill., who began to give her baby Frederick Syrup Pepsin when he was 6 months old and has used it ever since with gratifying results. She writes that Frederick was not growing well and threw up his food, but after a few days use of Syrup Pepsin he was able to retain his food and gained rapidly in weight. Thousands of others are glad to say that Syrup Pepsin saved them many an illness and many a large doctor bill, for by administering it promptly when the first symptoms of illness were noticed, they prevented a serious ailment.

It is so pleasant-tasting that no child will refuse it, and as it does not gripe, the child is glad to take it again. A bottle can be obtained of any druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, the latter being the size bought by families already familiar with its merits. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Syrup Pepsin is for all the family from infancy to old age; and because of its mildness families should prefer it over all other remedies. It is absolutely safe and reliable. You will never again give cathartics, pills, salts or such harsh physic, for they are usually unnecessary, and in the case of children, women and elderly people are a great shock to the system, and hence should be avoided.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address in a postal card to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Gazette's Big Corn Contest

Mr. Raessler, in charge of the contest, believes that the boys up to and including the age of 20 years should be given an opportunity to enter this big contest. The enlistment should be broadened out so that all boys may have a chance to show their metal and make Rock county the champion corn growing county of the northwest

NOYES R. RAESSLER.

There Are No Strings to This Contest. You Get Just What You Work For.

The seed will be that which Mr. Raessler has used so successfully himself. Each boy will be supplied with enough Silver King or Golden Glow seed to plant an acre at cost, $1.00.

This is a special price made by Mr. Raessler to the Gazette because of this contest, he could sell every pound he has at double the price.

Those who wish to furnish their own seed are at liberty to do so; the opportunity is given to use the same seed Mr. Raessler has developed into such a high state of perfection. Boys furnishing their own seed of the two varieties indicated are not barred in any way from participating.

Rules of the Contest.

- First: Fill out and send or bring to the Gazette office the entry blank printed below and secure your seed.
- Second: Arrange for an acre of ground, selecting that which will be best suited to the purpose.
- Third: The seed must be Silver King (Wisconsin No. 7) or Golden Glow (Wisconsin No. 12).
- Fourth: Corn must be grown entirely by the boy himself in Rock county.
- Fifth: The awards will be made on the yield of one acre and the 10 winners required to bring to Gazette Office the best ten ears of corn from the crop for exhibition purposes. The fairness of the contest will be largely in the hands of the boys. Mr. Raessler will make personal inspection trips and some further rules will be laid down for contestants to follow.
- Sixth: The ground will be measured sometime before harvest time and the weighing of corn will be under the supervision of competent judges who will be chosen later.

Some of the Possibilities.

Corn grown by those participating will give a big yield and will bring fancy prices for seed especially that which captures the ten prizes. The prize winners will have opportunity of exhibiting at shows and competing for honors. Reputations for seed culture will be made which will be life long assets and will bring large income. Knowledge about expert methods will be gained by every contestant. The opportunity to enter the race and receive Mr. Raessler's instruction will be worth many times the effort. Address all communications to Corn Contest Editor Gazette.

DAUGHTERS OF POSTMASTER GENERAL BURLERSON PLAN TO MAKE WASHINGTON THE SCENE OF MANY INTERESTING ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Richard Van Wick Negley (top left), Miss Sydney Burlerson (right), and Miss Lucy Burlerson.

The home of Postmaster General Albert Sydney Burlerson promises to be a lively place when social activities in Washington get in full swing. With two daughters, eighteen-year-old Lucy and sixteen-year-old Sydney sure to be taking a keen interest in passing events, and the young married daughter, Mrs. Richard Van Wick Negley of Houston, Tex., likely to be present with exceedingly youthful and energetic Albert Sydney Burlerson Negley, things will move with a good deal of sprightliness. Mrs. Burlerson is known as an interesting and original entertainer. Her daughters certainly will be ready to do their best to help her live up to what she may conceive to be the duties of a cabinet wife.

TRUCE REACHED IN SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE

Agreement Signed Which Insures Temporary Delay of Trouble. The threatened strike of 5,000 Chicago yardmen employed by nineteen railroads in the various switching districts in Chicago, has been settled temporarily. Following negotiations which have extended over a month between committees representing the railroads and the workmen, on the recommendation of United States Labor Commissioner Charles P. Neill and his assistant, G. W. W. Hanger, mediators, an agreement was signed yesterday at the Congress hotel.

According to the terms of the contract the men are to get many concessions in the way of working conditions. The railroad managers committee, however, held out against the demand for pay for time and a half for overtime, Sundays and holidays.

Await Eastern Developments. This scale is being urged in the East by employees of fifty-four railroads and at the suggestion of the mediators the committee which had been representing the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen agreed to abandon their claim until the question had been disposed of in the East.

"We have done everything we could to reach an amicable settlement," said A. F. Whitney, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. "We were disappointed that the managers' committee refused to arbitrate this particular item. We still are of the opinion that the question would have stood on its merits. The signing of an agreement does not mean a surrender, but only a delay in the application of the rule."

Many Concessions Granted. Among the concessions made by the managers' committee, as set forth in the agreement, reached yesterday, are: An increase of wages of 30 percent for the men in the backup service; the yardmen have been given the right to handle the milk runs in the Chicago switching district; compensation is to be given yardmen who are required to lose time on account of being called to attend investigations and re-examinations; one day's pay is to be given the men when they are called and not used; switchmen short in their time are to be promptly reimbursed; extra yardmen are to receive compensation from the point of their assignment. Under the old rule the men received pay from the point at which they started to work.

ASKS PUBLIC RECORD OF CAUCUS MEETINGS

Senator La Follette Advocates Important Change in House Rules in Magazine Editorial. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., April 10.—"The rules of the house of representatives should be so changed as to require caucuses and committee to make and keep for public inspection a record of every act of such organization involving the public business."

This is Senator La Follette's advice, contained in an editorial on "Democratizing the Senate" in today's issue of his magazine. By this caucus action, he continues the democratic majority has promised a partial reform, and to make it permanent he proposes that it be incorporated as a part of the senate's code of procedure.

This is the senate resolution providing that a majority of a committee may call the committee together at any time to consider any pending bill; that a majority of the majority members of a committee may name sub-committees to consider pending bills and report the for action by the full committee; and that a majority of the members of any committee may name committees to confer with house conferees on any bill upon which the two houses have disagreed.

"But more than this adds Senator La Follette. The rules of the senate must be so changed as to provide for the election of members of committees by the senate, pursuant to a direct primary conducted by each party organization under regulations prescribed by senate rules."

When all committee conference and caucus proceedings are recorded in permanent records and all proceedings touching legislation are open to the public, "then, and not until then," he concludes, "will the senate be truly democratized."

MAKES YOUR BACKACHE VANISH, DRIVES ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY

New Discovery Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles Relieving Backache and Bladder Disorders After Few Doses are Taken.

No matter how badly you suffer how chronic your case may be, or what has failed to cure you, your pains will leave, your aches vanish and the tortuous killing backache or rheumatism will bother you no more. This is what Croxone, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It cures these diseases because it reaches the cause and removes it. It soaks right into the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes, and dissolves every particle of uric acid and makes the kidneys sift from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition so they can filter the blood and keep you well. If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or sides—groans or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder, and rheumatic troubles will disappear. Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else on earth ever used for the purpose. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves your suffering the very first time you use it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS AND SIMILAR BILLS GET ROYAL SUPPORT

Several Milwaukee Men, However, Recommend Exhaustive Inquiry into Family Relief Question Before Taking Action.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., April 18.—Mother's pensions, widows' relief, and other forms of state bounty for society's dependents found elaborate support before the assembly committee on public welfare yesterday afternoon. While all of the dozen speakers pointed to the necessity of investigation of each case prior to disbursing relief money, it remained for Rev. W. F. Greenman and H. H. Jacobs of Milwaukee to suggest the feasibility of an exhaustive inquiry into the whole field of family relief, including old age pensions, before Wisconsin enacts a pension law. This investigation, they said, would enable Wisconsin to avoid the mistakes made by sister states in administering "half-baked" mothers' pension laws, and in perfecting what they desired should be the best and most wisely administered act of the kind in the United States in this way upholding Wisconsin's prestige as leader in economic reforms.

Hearing Next Week. Another hearing will be held next Thursday. Yesterday's meeting was attended by several members of the state board of control, who, however, did not enter the discussion. Most of the speakers favored the Schnitzer bill on the subject. They took this position, they said, largely because of the emphasis placed therein on the need of thorough investigation of needy cases and of adequate supervision after relief is given to see that it is wisely spent and household economy furthered. Further, the fund of $100,000 as the state's share of the bounty provided a generous outlay for relieving want, without which a law of this kind they said could not be a success.

Rosa Defends Bill. Judge Rosa defended his bill as one which gave the judge wide discretion in handling dependents, but after hearing Milwaukee conditions discussed he admitted later that the circumstances in that thickly populated county differed so much from conditions in his own and other counties that it would require different machinery to administer an act for different counties. His bill provided for plenty of supervision, he said, and gave to judges the power to prescribe the limitations to the relief. His experience on the municipal court bench at Beloit led him to place great reliance in the rulings of the judge in such cases. Personal visitation was necessary also.

The other speakers were: Mrs. F. R. Eggers, Manitowish; Max J. Leutermann, attorney for the Catholic Social Union of Milwaukee; Mrs. Katherine Van Wyck of the Milwaukee Associated Charities; Miss Alice Salisbury of the La Crosse Associated Charities; Miss Agnes Wilson of the Madison Associated Charities; August Kringle, superintendent of the Milwaukee county home for dependent children; Jane Knight of Racine; and Mrs. Dunlop, a Milwaukee newspaper woman.

Benefit Worthy Class. Mrs. Eggers said the proposed legislation would reach a class of people in "genteel poverty"—women who do the best they can for their children without asking for charity but who sadly need it. She said that twenty legislatures are considering this subject and that other states have just passed these laws.

"There is a deep public conviction," she said, "that poverty should not be a determining factor in separating children from their parents." Attorney Leutermann, as one who had introduced the mothers' pension idea in the republican platform convention as a party plank, came here to help carry out the party's promise.

He opposed the clause in the Schnitzer bill prescribing civil service tests by the state for local child protection agents, believing that local men familiar with local situations should be appointed to administer the act. He criticized the Hedding bill as lacking in the necessary machinery for administration and as eliminating the state from bearing any of the pension expense.

"Plain Humanity" Act. Mrs. Van Wyck said that Milwaukee's experience showed a temptation for mothers receiving county pensions to spend it for other than actual necessities; hence the imperative need of close supervision in whatever act is framed by the legislature. Miss Salisbury said the proposed law was one born of "plain humanity." The necessities were thorough supervision and an adequate fund. In her county she said the county board had an inadequate conception of conditions in the city, and was chary about allowing generous funds for such relief. Supt. Kringle advised that the fund should be so adequately furnished as to permit mothers to stay home and influence their children and train their characters; to make them work out all day is to allow them to run at large. "Plenty of money and plenty of supervision" was his admonition. Miss Wilson called attention to the encouragement to abandon families held out by the knowledge that the state will care for them. Judge Rosa said the law has just been strengthened by imposing greater penalty for such crimes. Miss Knight said home conditions are largely at fault in creating poverty and the need for relief. Mrs. Dunlop recited stirring scenes in Milwaukee's courts, and resented the intimation that women were to blame for being poor. She said the Milwaukee judges gave emphatic approval of mothers' pension legislation at the hands of the legislature.

Smooth Glue. When using glue place a small quantity in a cup or a butter plate and stir it well until it turns pale yellow and loses its stringiness. In this condition it may be used on any material without danger that threads of glue may spoil the fabric to which it is applied. Use a paper cup or a spring clothespin to hold the glued parts together while drying.—Ladies' Home Journal.

She Caught It. Sarah, the new maid, was unused to city ways. One day upon after her arrival her mistress noticed a pall hanging from the gas bracket in the hall. Suspecting the country girl she called Sarah and asked what it all meant. "Well, you see, ma'am," replied Sarah, "the master said the gas was leaking, so I put up the pall to catch it."

WATER POWER BILL MEANS REGULATION

BILL PRESENTED IN SENATE TO-DAY PREPARED AFTER WEEKS OF INVESTIGATION.

BROAD STATE POLICY

Involves Abandonment of Old Theory of Private, Unregulated Development for Strict State Supervision.

Madison, Wis., April 18.—A most comprehensive water power bill, the work of several weeks of diligent research and investigation, was presented in the senate this morning by the special senate committee on conservation.

The bill lays down a broad state policy. The old theory of private, unregulated development of water powers is abandoned. A new policy of state regulation and control of river improving navigation, and for the development is proposed. The dominating purposes of the bill are to create corporations for the sole purpose of improving navigation, and for the encouraging and securing of complete development of state water power resources by state agencies thereby safeguarding all public and private rights. This measure lays the foundation of what is hoped will eventually lead to the acquisition by the state of all of its water powers developed in the future.

Announce Public Hearing.
This committee which drafted this bill is composed of Senators Hustling, Bosshard and Tompkins. In their work they were assisted by Miles Riley of the legislative department, and a number of others who co-operated with the committee at its special request. A public hearing on this bill has been fixed for Friday afternoon, April 25th, before the senate committee on conservation and the state affairs committee of the assembly.

Under the terms of this bill water powers in the state of Wisconsin are divided into two classes; those developing 250 horse power or more, and those under 250 horse power.

The main idea of the first part of the bill is to create state agencies in the form of corporations and to delegate to them certain powers for the improvement of rivers, charging of tolls, and the development, sale and distribution of hydraulic and hydro-electric power. It permits water power companies to charge toll on their river improvements, to earn a reasonable return on their investment and to establish a depreciation fund.

Plan a Reserve Fund.
A part of a surplus to be permitted is diverted into a state trust fund. This fund is to be held by the state, both as a sinking fund for the corporation, and if unused it may be applied by the state toward the acquisition of the water power property. Until the state has adopted a constitutional amendment which will permit it to acquire reservoirs and water powers, the levying of a tax for the purchase of water powers on the part of the state cannot be made. This bill, however, reserves all of the rights of the state and permits the building up of a fund which will in time turn the properties over to the state without levying any tax therefor. In the meantime, the bill is calculated to encourage the full and complete development of the water powers of the state and to protect all public and private interests.

All dams and other properties necessary for the improvement of navigation and the development of hydraulic and hydro-electric power are to be constructed, maintained and operated under the direct supervision of the railroad commission. The water power corporations can engage in no other business than that specified in bill.

Provision of Bill.
The bill is divided into three parts. The first of the proposed law is applicable to dams of over 250 horse power capacity. The second part of the bill relates to dams under 250 horse power capacity, and the third part relates to the dam construction and water-power development, both past and future. The measure first defines all of the technical terms, and then specifies all of the technical terms in specific detail. The bill then provides that no dam with a capacity of 250 horse power or over shall be constructed and maintained in the future except under the provision of this act. It then provides that any number of adult persons, residents of the state, not less than three, may incorporate for the improvement of navigable waters in this state, and for the development, generation and sale of hydraulic and hydro-electric power within certain territory, approved by the railroad commission, and for no other purpose.

The manner of incorporation is provided for the same as under the general incorporation act, except that both the charter and incorporation act is performed by the railroad commission.

It is further provided that the franchise granted to such corporation shall include and embrace not only the provisions of the act itself, but also the conditions of the franchise, the certification of which the commission, upon certain findings made by them, is authorized to issue, and this includes all findings, orders, rulings, and determinations of the commission later incorporated into the franchise. The corporation taking the franchise must file an acceptance to the effect that the franchise granted to it is accepted, taken and held subject to all the terms, conditions and provisions of the franchise.

The broadest powers are vested with the railroad commission to ascertain all the facts and conditions to be included in the contract. To that end it may require any information desired to carry out the purposes of the act, which is, "to safeguard public rights, to improve the navigation of navigable waters, to secure the early development and complete utilization of all water powers in the state or on its boundaries, to provide for the sale of such amounts of power as can be developed from the available fall of water at prices that shall not discriminate against the users of power derived from other sources; to provide for the creation of surplus revenues derived from such sale of power, which shall be paid in part into the state treasury, and to provide for the ultimate ownership by the state of the property of any corporation if the state shall so determine and shall have the constitutional power."

The commission, under the provisions of the bill, is given adequate power in the supervision of the construction of dams which the committee consider is necessary in the interest of public safety and in the promotion of public rights. First, an application must be made, describing the purposes and location of the dam and the height, material and general specifications of the proposed structure. The application must state that the proposed works will improve navigation and must also specify the approximate amount of hydraulic and hydro-electric power that approximate amount of hydraulic and hydro-electric power that is proposed to be developed, the location of the nearest dam above and below and other pertinent facts.

In case the company does not carry out the provisions of the application "the state may take possession by proceedings instituted by the commission as in the case of receivership, and in such proceedings the members of the commission shall be appointed and act as receiver during such period as the court may determine."

The proposed corporation must agree as to the physical value of the plant when completed, together with all other items of value and promotion which include all riparian rights in lands acquired by the corporation used and useful in the operation of the plant. This application shall be the basis of price to be paid by the state if it shall determine in the future, to acquire the property. This precludes any possibility of over capitalization.

A depreciation account is provided for. The corporation is permitted to charge the public for its service a price less than the cost of steam power. A reasonable return is permitted the corporation upon its investment. The surplus in excess of this amount is divided equally between the state and the corporation. The portion which goes to the state is maintained as a trust fund for dual purposes; first to protect bond holders in case of disaster to the property, and secondly to provide a growing fund which the state may use to ultimately acquire the property held under the franchise. All accretions of the fund are added to the waterpower fund.

The bill gives municipalities power to take over these properties at any time by paying a fair compensation. The commission passes upon the proposals contained in the application for a franchise which application may be amended from time to time before the issuance of the franchise to the embryo corporation. In the event that the commission approve of the proposals, it issues a charter and franchise, the filing of which with the secretary of state and register of deeds is an acceptance by the corporations of all the terms and conditions of the act. To safeguard the public from destruction by floods and also to promote a more even stream flow of the waters, the commission must fix a low and a high water mark upon the property.

There are general provisions in the bill giving the commission power to require sluice-ways and other improvements on the property to safeguard the general public. Upon complaint made by the authorities of any city or village that any dam is unsafe, the commission shall immediately make an investigation and compel improvements.

Nothing in the act limits the common law liabilities of the corporation or in any way lays the state open or liable for damages. In Part II of the bill, any person, firm or corporation, including municipalities, but excepting the corporation provided for in the first part, may receive a franchise for building a dam of two hundred and fifty horse-power or less. An application must be made similar to that required in Part I of the bill, and the railroad commission is given practically the same powers of supervision with special reference to safeguarding the public from injury or damage.

Franchises under Part II are limited to a term of forty years. The supervision by the state is largely for the purpose of safety to the public. Similar to Part I of the bill, the state or municipality may acquire these properties by paying a just compensation therefor. Under the terms of the second Part of this bill, there is no provision for a state fund. A special provision is made for municipalities acquiring water power rights, both under parts I and II by purchase or condemnation, and in the main without the condition attached to other corporations. The first part of the bill, which is applicable to dams of two hundred fifty horse power or over is the important part of the measure, providing as it does for the development of greater water power by state agencies. The lesser powers included in the second part, may as heretofore be developed by private individuals for private enterprises though subject to state control.

Fine Point.
"I thought that in the fifteen years of my practice of medicine," said a physician, "I had answered almost every possible foolish question, but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed liniment—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the surgery, but returned in a few minutes, poked his head in the doorway and asked: 'Shall I drop this in the eye before meals or after?'"

Brotherly.
"Brother Short will now lead us in prayer," said the pastor. "No he won't, neither," replied Brother Short. "Pray yourself, that's what you're paid for."—Exchange.

DIPPY-DOPE
If the girl is a good dancer, would the snake charmer? But then what would the kindoo?

THAT SPRING DELUSION.

Bring out the old yesterday. A toothbrush and a cake of soap. The skyline of a bygone spring—Some pumice, sulphur, lemon juice. The summer time will soon be here. With these and other kinds of dope. And also don't forget to bring. We'll make that straw hat still of use.
